The state forged another link today in the chain of evidence by which it seeks to show that Miss Louise Montenabro did not die of a self-inflicted bullet wound as claimed by Police Chief H. F. Blake, on trial for murder of the girl.

To bolster its claim that the bullet which killed the young woman was fired by other hands than her own and from another weapon, the prosecution placed on the stand Dr. F. C. Dubose, Selma hospital physician, who examined the body shortly after death.

Like Dr. S. E. Centerfeit, Montgomery, who performed the autopsy on Miss Montenabro, Dr. Dubose declared his belief that the wound was caused by a .38-caliber weapon. Miss Monte-nabro's revolver was a .32-caliber.

Improper Language.
There were no powder burns about the wound as he would expect to find in cases of suicide, the physician told the jury.

Witnesses testified Blake and Officer Farmer held an improper discussion of Miss Montenabro in a Calera cafe the night she was mysteriously shot to death.

After women spectators had been asked to leave the courtroom, Roy E.
Taylor and G. M. Murrell testified they overheard Blake and Farmer

GRADY TREATMENT
REFUSED TO NEGRO,
OFFICERS ASSERT

Refused admission to Grady hospital "because we have no room in the negro ward," an unidentified negro, about 35 years old, who apparently was in a serious condition, was forced to remain in a police cell
Wednesday night, according to Station Lieutenant J. H. Scott.

Lieutenant Scott said the negro was brought to police station in an unconscious condition, and that he immediately notified Grady hospital.
When the ambulance arrived, he said, the interne looked at the negro and stated, "We have no room at the hospital, maybe he'll come around,"
and left the patient, still unconscious and apparently in a dangerous condition at police station.

T. Jeffries, turnkey at police station, stated that the negro seemed to grow worse as the hours passed and at the hour The Constitution went to press he was still suffering from an undetermined ailment with no attention being given him, save that by sympathetic policemen.

Gene Refuses

California Girl Is Loveliest of Sex.

Miami Beach, Fla., March 7.—(P)— Gene Tunney tonight avoided flat denial that he was engaged to Miss Caroline Bishop, of Beverly Hills, Calif., when he went to see her away on a train bound for the west, with the statement that it would be "premature and unfair to Miss Bishop to suggest that we are betrothed."

Besieged by newspapermen who asked for confirmation or denial of persistent reports that they were engaged, they would not commit themselves definitely.

The champion and the California girl gave newspapermen to understand tonight, however, that each thought the other most attractive, Tunney particularly announcing to the scribes that "I think Miss Bishop one of the loveliest girls I have ever known."

And from the pretty visitor: "I think Mr. Tunney is one of the most admirable men of our age."

PLANS OCEAN HOP
TO AMERICA TODAYElsie Mackay and Pilot Hinchcliffe Startle Britain With Secret Flight
Over Atlantic.

London, March 8.—(Thursday)— (United News.)—The Daily Express said this morning that the Honorable Elsie Mackay, third daughter of Lord Inchcape, famous millionaire ship owner, intends to take off on a trans-Atlantic flight from London to New York at noon today, weather permitting.

The start will be made from Cranwell airfield, with Captain W. R.
Hinchcliffe as pilot, the Daily Express said.

Miss Mackay, daughter of one of the wealthiest men in the British empire, will fly in an American-made Stinson monoplane.

Utmost secrecy has surrounded preparations for the flight, the newspaper said. Preparations have been going on for several months, with every precaution of success taken.

The airplane, golden-winged as if symbolical of the honorable Miss Mackay's wealth, will have its name, "Adventure," painted on the fuselage, with the Union Jack below.

Novel Life Raft.
The machine was brought from New York in January in the hold of the liner Aquitania.

Hinchcliffe, a capable pilot, who was under contract last year to take Charles Levine back to the United States on a trans-Atlantic flight, plans to fly direct to Atlantic, on the east coast of Ireland, thence to Newfoundland.

The fliers will not start, according to the Daily Express, unless forecasts

CROWDS INCREASE
AT MODEL HOMEElection Day Fails To Lessen Attendance at The Constitution Haynes
Manor Dwelling.

Election day Wednesday failed to lessen the attendance of interested men and women who, since the formal opening last Sunday, have been attending and inspecting The Constitution's new model home at Peachtree Battle avenue and Alton road in Haynes Manor.

Hostesses Wednesday reported that during the day an even larger number of spectators visited the structure than on Monday and Tuesday, when attendance was highly gratifying to those sponsoring the movement, which is designed to promote interest in permanent home building and tasteful home decorating.

The Constitution presents this home with the cooperation of a number of leading business houses interested in furnishing or building homes of the most lasting and tasteful type, and all involved in the movement have expressed satisfaction at the universal approval with which the movement has been greeted.

Open for Month.

The house will be open for 30 days, during which the public is invited to attend. On week days the home is open between 2 and 6 p. m. and on Sundays from 2 to 10 p. m.

al home movement and the items
which they supplied are as follows:

Washington, March 7.—(United News.)—Final house action on the Norris-White constitutional amendment to abolish the "lame duck" congressional sessions and to change the of Burglaries.

Jose Cartagena, 23, of 780 Park street, S. W., who was shot and almost instantly killed early Wednesday morning by H. Anthony Mitchell, Georgia Tech student, as he emerged from the Phi Delta Theta chapter house at 674 Spring street, after ransacking the residence, was implicated in a number of other house robberies in Atlanta recently, according to information gained Wednesday afternoon by city detectives.

Awakened in the early morning hours by a noise in his room, Mitchell reached under his pillow, and grasping his pistol, bided his time until the burglar left the room. The student then posted himself on the second story front porch and shot Cartagena when the latter refused to halt when ordered to do so and reached for his hip pocket as if to draw a gun, police were told.

Cartageña was identified by Lizzy
Jones, cook in the home of H. Clay Moore, at 2580 Peachtree road, as the man who robbed Mr. Moore's home Tuesday, and by Professor Ralph Guller, of Georgia Tech, as the man who robbed him of a pocketbook containing $150 a month ago.

The identity of Cartageña was es-

ALL DEMOCRATIC PARTY DEBTS PAIDJess H. Jones, Treasurer, Reports Past Indebtedness Gone and Surplus for Coming Campaign.

Washington, March 7.—(P)—The word went out tonight from headquarters of the democratic national committee that its entire indebtedness had been paid or underwritten and a surplus accumulated with which to begin the 1928 campaign.

Chairman Clem Shaver made public a report from Jess H. Jones, the committee's director of finance, which showed contributions and pledges of slightly more than half a million dollars.

Included in the total of $508,500 was the $200,000 contributed by citizens of Houston for the June convention fund, a $300,000 contribution from Thomas F. Ryan, of New York, a heavy contributor to democratic party campaign chests in the past, and one of like amount by Mr. Jones, who had a big hand in landing the convention for Houston, his home city.

C. W. Watson, of Fairmont, W.
Va., and William K. Kenny, of New York city, were down on Jones' list for $25,000 contributions each, and John Henry Kirby, of Houston, $15,000, while the $10,000 donors included John W. Davis, the party's presidential nominee in 1924; William A.
Tullam, national committeeman from Ohio; Franklin Polk, of New York, at one time undersecretary of state, and Herbert H. Lehman, of New York.

In addition to the $200,000 Houston contribution which Jones said he was holding as chairman and treasurer of the committee on convention arrangements, he reported that the cash intake since the last report of James W. Gerard, treasurer of the democratic national committee, totaled $111,250.

FRENZIED MAN
SHOTS WIFETurns Gun on Self After Slashing and Shooting
Mother of Several Small Children.

Newnan, Ga., March 7.—(Special).
Pursued by her frenzied husband after two attempts to slay her had been thwarted, Mrs. Eddie Lee McWhorter, 40, the mother of several children, was shot and killed Wednesday in the presence of neighbors.

Returning to his home, McWhorter, a mill worker, placed the shotgun against his breast and inflicted wounds that probably will prove fatal.
He is in a local hospital with a load of shot in his lungs.

The tragedy was the outgrowth of a quarrel which started early in the morning, it is understood, following the return home last Saturday of Mrs.
McWhorter, after an absence of several weeks.

As the woman stood over the stove cooking breakfast for her children, McWhorter, it is alleged, grabbed his shotgun and fired at her several times.
None of these attempts succeeded,
however, and he was disarmed by a grown son.

His shotgun taken from him, Mc-Whorter is said to have obtained a carving knife while the woman was frantically attempting to gather two small daughters in her flight from the house, with the infuriated husband in pursuit. She was overtaken and slashed several times, according to re-

Hickman Gives

to Mayo Clinic.

Los Angeles, March 7.—(United News.)—The body of William Edward Hickman will be given to scientists for an examination of the brain, attorneys for the slayer of Marion Parker said today.

The statements indicated that Attorney Jerome Walsh and Richard Cantillon have little hope of preventing execution of the youth, scheduled for April 27.

The body will be sent to Mayo
Brothers' clinic at Rochester, Minn., after the hanging, Walsh said. The attorney explained that he hoped the diagnosis of the scientists would support the insanity plea upon which the defense had based its case in Hick-man's trial.

Meanwhile, the second trial of Hickman, co-defendant with Welby
Hunt on charges of murdering Ivy Toms, neared conclusion. The case was expected to reach the jury late Thursday or Friday.

Robert McCloskey, 65, To Leave Postoffice Work After 35 Years

Robert McCloskey, 65, retired Wednesday from the postoffice service after 35 years spent as a government employee. Mr. McCloskey was presented with a silver loving cup by his co-workers as a token of their esteem, the ceremonies taking place Wednesday afternoon at the main postoffice. He was given a letter of commendation by Postmaster E. K. Large for his fine record with the department.

COUNCIL MEET HELD BY CHURCH OF GOD

Plans for Sunday school betterment were discussed at the monthly council meeting of the Church of God, held at the home of E. L. Greene, 84 Fulton avenue, in Hapeville. The attendance was large and an elaborate entertainment program was presented.

DR. MAJOR TO PRESIDE AT BAPTIST MEETING

Dr. W. H. Major, of Atlanta, will preside at a meeting of the executive committee of the Georgia Baptist convention, to be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the First Baptist church. One of the chief items to come before the board will be the report of Dr. O. P. Gilbert, of Brunswick, chairman of the educational commission of the convention. Dr. W. T. Granade, of Statesboro, also will make a report. The endowment committee of the convention will meet at 12:30 o'clock at the Wineoff hotel with Louis D. Newton as chairman.

Wednesday several hundred Georgia Baptist laymen met at the Baptist tabernacle for a conference on the work of the denomination in the state. Ben S. Thompson, of Madison, president of the Baptist Laymen's Brotherhood of Georgia, was in charge of the conference.

The report at this conference was said to have been "highly encouraging." In observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the Georgia Baptist state mission board, laymen throughout the state are taking extraordinary interest in the promotion of the united budget of the Baptist work of the world. More than 100 ministers attended the laymen conference.

Luncheon was served in the dining rooms of the tabernacle. During the luncheon addresses were made by Governor L. G. Hardman, Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport; Dr. J. C. Massee, of Boston; Ely R. Callaway, of LaGrange; Columbus Roberts, of Columbus; J. P. Nichols, of Griffin; Dr. W. A. Taliaferro, of Savannah; Dr. W. H. Major, of Atlanta, and Louis D. Newton.

Jubilee Organization. It was found at the meeting Wednesday that there is a completed organization for the jubilee movement in the majority of the associations. Governor Hardman's address was on "The Need Today of Christian Citizenship." He declared that he believed our people should read the constitution of our state and of our nation and catch afresh the responsibility which is upon every citizen to respect and obey the law of the land and to otherwise lend himself to the task of properly spreading the gospel of democracy. He went further to declare that he believed the best way to develop a sound basis of government is to bring the people to the acceptance of the teachings of the Bible.

Dr. M. E. Dodd spoke on the "Laymen and Tomorrow," declaring that the greatest need of the churches today is the cordial, first-hand cooperation of the laymen. "We can never have great churches until we have our great laymen actively lined up in the work of our churches. It makes me sick to see our big bankers, our big farmers, giving all of their time and thought to the world and none to religion, and I do not lay all of the blame for this condition at their door. We should let them know that we must have their cooperation if we are to make the greatest progress. I find some preachers who get jealous of any layman who throws himself enthusiastically into the work. I invite such active cooperation, and I would say that the secret of the success of our church at Shreveport is the fact that we have the active cooperation of our big business men. They give their money and they do it gladly."

GEORGIA VIADUCT BOARD WILL MEET TUESDAY, MARCH 13

Members of the state viaduct commission will meet in the office of Governor L. G. Hardman at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 13, to discuss various details relative to the state's interest in the new viaducts to be built in Atlanta over the railroad tracks on Central avenue and Pryor street, it was announced Wednesday by E. M. Williams, chairman.

This commission was named, under provisions of a bill passed by the state legislature two years ago, to protect Georgia's interests. It is expected that the session will last two days. The commission is composed of the following members: Walter C. Hendrix, chairman, Atlanta; Senator Shirley C. Boykin, senator of 37th district, Carrollton; Senator J. A. Dixon, senator of 17th district, Millen; Representative E. M. Williams, Lexington; Representative Walter Steel, of Taylor; Butler; Representative Roy V. Harris, Jefferson, Louisville.

NO ACTION TAKEN ON CHATTAHOOCHEE SAND CONTRACTS

No action has been taken yet in the signing of contracts between the state of Georgia and the Chattahoochee Sand and Gravel company, of Tallahassee, Fla., by which the Florida concern is to dredge the Chattahoochee and pay the state 5 cents a cubic yard for the sand, it was announced Wednesday at the office of Governor L. G. Hardman. It was said that the matter is being held in abeyance pending the completion of the contracts.

Work for Viaduct Will Start Today On Alabama St.

Preparation of Alabama street for erection of the Pryor and Central avenue viaducts will begin today, it was announced Wednesday by Chief of Construction William A. Hansell. Underground conduits, electric cabling, gas mains, sewers and other improvements which must be laid before actual work can be begun on the bridge proper will be replaced and moved to other locations so as to expedite work on the projects. Alabama street will be elevated about 15 feet at Pryor street running almost on a level from Whitehall east. This will necessitate many changes in that area. Hunter street will be elevated about six feet at Pryor street.

I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." ## ARAB KING SENDS ARMS FOR ALLIES

Basra, Protectorate of Iraq, March 7.—(P)—Ibn Saud, potentate of the Arabian desert, has taken decisive steps to prosecute his "holy war" against the neighboring tribes under British mandate in Iraq, Kuwait and Transjordan.

Reports received here state that the Ajman and other Wahabi tribes which have been cooperating in the border warfare, have received rifles, ammunition, food and tents from Ibn Saud. The leaders of the Nejd tribes left Riyadh, Ibn Saud's capital, fired with religious zeal for punishing the tribes whom the lord of the Wahab had denounced as "renegade" from true Moslemism.

Royal air force headquarters at Ur of the Chaldees is keeping a careful watch for desert raiders. Armored trains are patrolling the Baghdad-Basra railway. All is quiet at Zohier, which is the nearest Iraq town to the Nejd and Kuwait boundaries.

EGYPT SEETHES WITH UNREST

London, March 7.—(P)—The stern note which Great Britain presented to Egypt, stating in effect that Great Britain will not grant full independence to that country at present, has been coupled with the "holy war" in Arabia. This creates a situation which may affect British relations throughout the near east to the borders of India.

Dispatches tonight from Egypt assert that the political situation there is fraught with confusion, uncertainty and excitement. Egypt is without a cabinet but the nationalist faction has Pasha, after an hour's audience with King Fuad, declared that constitutional governments would be formed as long as the constitution exists. The British note, which apparently dropped like a bombshell in Cairo political circles after the break down of negotiations for an Anglo-Egyptian alliance, makes it clear that Great Britain will not tolerate any legislation that is likely to hinder English power in protecting foreign life and property in Egypt.

The full correspondence between the two countries was published tonight in a lengthy government "white paper." This outlines 14 articles on which Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, and Sarwat Pasha, recently resigned Egyptian premier, agreed but over which the Egyptian parliament balked.

MICHIGAN SENATOR IS NOT CANDIDATE FOR REELECTION

Detroit, March 7.—(P)—In a letter to William A. Coolidge, democratic national committeeman, received today, United States Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris declared that he would not be a candidate for reelection to the office this fall.

In the same letter Senator Ferris declared that he would not support Governor Alfred E. Smith for the democratic presidential nomination, but would support Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana.

High Blood Pressure Due to Constipation and Biliousness

High blood pressure is both functional and organic, often produced by over-eating or mental strain, while constipation and biliousness are underlying causes. In either case, however, through a process of elimination, thorough cleansing of the system of its impurities and tends to reduce pressure in the veins and arteries by carrying out, through the intestinal tract, excess water in the system which the sweat glands have failed to secrete.

After the first dose or two of Alerx you note a decided improvement in reduced blood pressure, also in your general health, because Alerx removes, in one action, more than 100 poisons from the system than any other known formula, leaving you buoyant, vivacious and alert. Ask any one who has tried it. At all druggists or sent direct upon receipt of price, 60c and $1.00. Crystal Carbonic Laboratory, Dept. 35, Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

HOW TO GET RID OF CATARRH

A Simple, Safe, Inexpensive Method that Clears Out the Head, Nose and Throat

There is no disease more offensive or disagreeable, or no disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as catarrh. You can now get rid of it by a simple, safe, pleasant home remedy discovered by Dr. Blosser, a catarrh specialist.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is composed of medicinal herbs, flowers and berries which you smother in a small pipe or cigarette. The warm smoke-vapor is inhaled into the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs and carries medicine where sprays, douches and salves cannot possibly reach. Its effect is soothing and healing and is entirely harmless. It contains no cubebs or tobacco, and may be used by children as well as adults.

If you suffer from any catarrhal trouble, catarrhal deafness, asthma, hay fever, bronchial irritations, or are subject to frequent colds, get from any druggist a pocket-size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes, and prove for your self their pleasant, beneficial effects.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S SUNDAY LAW BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Columbia, S. C., March 7.—(P)—The Bowers Sunday law bill which would legalize the selling of gasoline, milk, ice, drugs, newspapers, prepared meats and cigars on Sundays, under certain restrictions, was passed by the house and sent to the senate today, after a motion to reject the bill on third reading had been voted down.

HIS ARM SEVERED BY TRAIN, YOUTH WALKS TO DOCTOR

Calera, Ala., March 7.—(P)—Spartan fortune showed itself in a small Alabama community late today when J. C. Hicks, 15, walked several blocks unaided to a doctor with a jagged, bleeding shoulder, all that remained of one of his arms. The youth had "hopped" a ride on a freight train at Calera bound for Jemison, his home, a few miles away.

About a quarter of a mile from Calera, another train passed the one on which Hicks clung. He was knocked from the train to the tracks and his right arm severed. Leaving his arm between the rails the boy walked back to Calera and up a flight of steps to a doctor's office and climbed upon the operating table unassisted. He was reported recovering late tonight at a hospital here.

FATHER AND SON BURN TO DEATH IN SAWMILL FIRE

Hamilton, Ga., March 7.—(P)—Virgil Koonce, aged 55, and his son, Clayton Koonce, age 16, were burned to death in a cabin in which they were camping while working at a sawmill near Mountain Hill early Wednesday morning. Reports received here state that their bodies were burned almost beyond recognition. The origin of the fire is unknown.

AMERICAN WOMAN TO WED MAHARAJA IN ORIENTAL POMP

Bombay, India, March 7.—(P)—Lavish preparations in keeping with the splendor of an Oriental potentate are in progress for the coming marriage of Tukoji Rao, former maharaja of Indore and Miss Nancy Ann Miller, of Seattle, Wash.

Reports from Indore say that the former ruler's staff is busy preparing for the marriage which will take place at the "Water Palace," 40 miles from Indore. The wedding guests are expected to number fully 50,000.

The palace is being lavishly appointed. Carloads of furniture are being sent out from Indore. Magnificent illuminations and fireworks are planned for the ceremony which will be accompanied by a gorgeous procession of decorated horses and elephants.

Miss Miller's initiation into the Hindu faith has been scheduled for March 15, at Nasik.

DR. COOK REFUSED JAIL TIME CREDIT ON PRISON TERM

Toledo, March 7.—(P)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, arctic explorer, lecturer and oil land promoter, appealed by mail to Judge John M. Killits here today asking credit on his Leavenworth penitentiary sentence for 11 months spent in jail while waiting for his case to be heard before the circuit court of appeals in Texas. Cook was sentenced in November, 1923, in Fort Worth by Judge Killits for using the mails to defraud in connection with oil operations. His sentence was fixed at 15 years and nine months with a fine of $12,000 and costs.

If the explorer will pay the $18,000 to $20,000 which includes both fine and costs, nearly a year may be subtracted from the penalty, Judge Killits replied. The 11 months in question represents a period Cook could have been at liberty had he paid.

He began to serve his sentence April 6, 1925.

MAYOR WALKER KEEPS COOLIDGE WAITING

Washington, March 7.—(P)—Mayor Walker, of New York, added to his reputation of being late for engagements today at the expense of President Coolidge and three cabinet officers, but he got a tentative agreement for the tearing down of the old federal building near city hall in Manhattan.

He was 35 minutes behind schedule in calling on the president, whom he never had seen before. At noon, when he was due at the white house, he still was in conference with Secretary Mellon, Attorney General Sargent and Postmaster General New. He had kept them waiting half an hour to begin a discussion of the federal building question which has vexed federal government and New York city officials for years.

By United News.
President Coolidge had been waiting for more than one-half hour when Mayor Walker drove up to the white house.

"Glad to meet you, Mister Mayor," said the president.

"What luck are you having?" is said to have been Mr. Coolidge's inquiry concerning the mayor's efforts to persuade the government to remove the unsightly federal building from the doorstep of New York city hall—the real object of Walker's hurried visit to the capital.

"I hope to succeed," Jimmy answered.

President Coolidge then hurried off to lunch, for which he was nearly late because of the mayor's tardiness.

As Mayor Walker entered the treasury building the employees gathered in the halls to greet him. Jimmy smiled.

"This makes me feel at home," he said. "Just like the city hall—nobody working."

Takes Crack at Mellon.
After the conference Mellon said the government was willing to cooperate as far as possible in negotiating a transaction for sites for a new federal building and releasing the old postoffice property to New York for conversion into a park. The matter was left open pending future conferences.

At the capitol Walker urged the New York delegation to press for abandonment of the Brooklyn Navy Yard to make way for commercial docks.

Walker visited Speaker Longworth on the house side of the capitol.

"They've been saying something about you in the south," Longworth said.

"That's nothing to what I'll say about you if you run for president," Walker retorted, laughing.

"Would you like to go up in the gallery and see the house in action?" "I'd rather stay out and think well of the country," replied the mayor.

While at the capitol Walker was informed that Senator Hefflin, who had been attacking Governor Smith of New York, was speaking on Music Shoals.

"Well, nothing is being said," Jimmy commented.

RADIO COMMISSION RAPPED IN DEBATE ON SENATE FLOOR

Washington, March 7.—(P)—The American infant radio industry came under fire in the senate today both in committee and on the floor.

The Dill radio bill, which would provide for the forfeiting of patents by anyone convicted of monopolistic operations, had its final hearing before the senate patents committee, where it was energetically opposed by Thomas C. Robertson, commissioner of patents.

During a radio interlude in the senate's free-for-all debate, Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, declared that "instead of looking out for the interest of all the people the radio commission misconceives its functions and simply is trying to see how much they can turn over to the big radio companies."

"Is it not a fact that one station in New York has been given more power than all the southern stations put together?" Senator Mayfield, democrat, Texas, asked.

"That is the fact," Senator McKellar agreed.

HEFLIN SCORES NORRIS' SHOALS RESOLUTION

Washington, March 7.—(P)—The flowers of spring have bloomed, withered and died on the Tennessee river in Alabama, eight times since the Muscle Shoals question first came before the senate, Senator Hefflin, democrat, Alabama, declared today in a speech in opposition to the Norris resolution for disposal of the project.

The Alabama senator intimated that as far as the farmers of his state are concerned, the annual crop of flowers will wither and die for many years to come before they will approve "this resolution which provides for the generation and distribution of power in preference to the manufacture and distribution of cheap fertilizer to the farmers of the country."

Senator Czarway, democrat, Arkansas, interrupted the Alabamian to say that "there is no more chance to have the Norris bill passed than there was to have the Ford bill adopted by the senate."

In the course of an exchange between Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, and Senator Hefflin, the Alabama senator voiced objections to McKellar's amendment to the Norris resolution on the ground that it left discretion with the secretary of agriculture as to what was done about fertilizer.

"I am not willing to leave anything to the discretion of the present secretary of agriculture," Senator Hefflin declared.

"I hope the senator does not believe that I am defending the present secretary," McKellar replied. "I think he is the poorest secretary of agriculture we have ever had in this country. I do not believe he is fitted for that office."

GUN RUNNING ROW WITH COMMITTEE

Geneva, March 7.—(P)—The troublesome St. Gothard machine gun incident, brought before the council of the League of Nations by the Little Entente after 2,000 automatic weapons had been found in a freight train on the Hungarian frontier, today "went to committee." There is expected to report to the full assembly of the league in September.

The reference to committee was according to program, but the formal statements from the two sides to the

SEVERE QUAKES SHAKE SOUTHERN COAST OF ITALY

Rome, March 7.—(United News).—A large portion of Italy was shaken today by earthquakes which extended almost 200 miles southward from the instep of the Italian boot to the southernmost province in Sicily.

Early reports from 19 towns which felt the tremors indicated several persons had been killed but that the property damage was not great.

Messina, in the northeast tip of Sicily, reported the earthquake was the strongest since 1908 when the city was leveled.

The tremors were felt over a territory of 5,000 square miles in the Italian earthquake zone.

C. L. STROUD DIES; SLAYER IS SOUGHT

Clifford L. Stroud, 23, of Douglas county, died early Wednesday morning at Grady hospital from the effects of two bullet wounds alleged to have been fired by George Collins, of West End, while the two men were riding with two other boys near Austell late Tuesday night. George Collins is still at large, police said Wednesday afternoon.

According to information given Lieutenant J. M. Carroll, of the Fulton county police, Collins shot Stroud after an altercation, and forced Henry Waits and Eugene Collins to throw the victim out of the car and drive on to Adamsville, where George Collins left the machine.

Lieutenant Carroll, who was called by Waits and Eugene Collins, brought Stroud to Grady hospital. Waits and Eugene Collins were questioned by police but were not arrested.

Funeral services for Stroud will be held Friday from the chapel of Awtrey & Lowndes. Interment will be in Shady Grove churchyard in Douglas county.

Almost Instant
Death To Atlantian

T. C. Hix, 27, 469 Plum street, was killed in Wrightsville at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning when he touched a broken wire hanging into the street and received 2,300 volts of electricity.

Contact with the wire caused almost instant death. Attempts at resuscitation were futile.

Hix was a truck driver for the Empire Construction company and had been in the employ of that company almost continuously since 1920. He left the company in 1926 and engaged in other work for a time but returned to the company in December, 1927. He is survived by a widow and two children.

The Right Way to Relieve Headache

Why shock your system with harsh laxatives and purgatives when it is most likely that your headache comes from a congested condition of the blood which can be corrected by this simple, harmless remedy?

Years ago, Dr. T. M. Stanback discovered that the majority of people want something to relieve headache quickly, without any bad after effects. So he developed this prescription which has been used by so many throughout the South that it has been called "The South's Standard Remedy." Physicians and dentists use it in their practice to relieve all kinds of pain—neuralgia, backache, toothache, and to check colds and "flu."

You'll be simply amazed at the speedy relief you'll get with Stanback Headache Powders. At the very first sign of headache or pain of any kind, go to your druggist. He'll recommend Stanback—and you will, too, after the first trial.

LOEW'S CHIEF PLEADED AT ATLANTA'S GROWTH

Atlanta, Houston and New Orleans are leading the van in progress among the cities of Loew's, Inc., located in the southern territory, in the opinion of Lionel H. Keene, general manager of this division. "He returned to Atlanta Wednesday after a tour of the entire territory."

"General business is good throughout the southern states I visited, but I found the leaders among the cities to be Atlanta, New Orleans and Houston," Mr. Keene said. "In these cities the progress is amazing and the sound of the hammer and saw almost down out all other noises."

Mr. Keene said New Orleans is enjoying a great winter business and declared that Houston is making great preparations for entertaining the national democratic convention in June.

Most Outstanding Development.
"Here in Atlanta the most outstanding evidence of prosperity I have found is the announcement that the Southern railway will make vast extensions in its offices here and will bring about 1,500 new employees here from Washington. Figuring about four people to the average family, this means 6,000 new people, quite an addition to the population of any city these days."

Mr. Keene was warm in his praise of the city of Atlanta, which he said which his organization is offering in the south and which will be presented at Loew's Grand theater the week of March 10.

"I saw this film twice on my trip and words cannot picture the impression it made on me and made on the people present at the times I saw it," Mr. Keene said. "This production is of the highest art and I want those persons who look rather disdainfully at the cinema to see this picture and then give their real opinion of it. The fact that it was offered at the Capitol theater in New York at 75 cents and scored such a hit that it was transferred to the Astor theater for an indefinite run at $2 shows its value. This is a record few other pictures have made. Many have played at top prices and then dropped but 'The Crowd' is the first to play at the bottom price and then soar skyward. Even with the advance in New York it will be played in Atlanta and other southern cities at the regular theater scale of rates."

MORPHINE VALUED
AT $7,200 CAPTURED
BY LOCAL AGENTS

One of the largest single amounts of morphine ever captured in Atlanta was uncovered Wednesday in the arrest of J. A. Leverton, alleged former inmate of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, according to federal narcotic officers. Leverton was arrested in a downtown hotel in alleged possession of 15 ounces of morphine, valued at $7,200.

According to officers, Leverton was sentenced to a year and a day in the federal prison in October, 1923, and also was given two suspended sentences of two years each. The arrest was made by City Detectives J. L. Whitley and O. D. Evans and Federal Agents Goode, Williams and Agent in Charge T. E. Middlebrooks.

FORESTRY BOARD DEPLORES DEATH OF W. A. DIETRICH

The Georgia state board of forestry Wednesday made public resolutions deploring the death of Captain William A. Dietrich, of the state forestry department, who was killed February 29 in a shooting affray at Neel's Gap, in north Georgia, and calling upon law enforcement authorities "to see that justice is done" in the case.

H. M. Luburrow, state forester, in making the announcement explained that the resolutions were adopted by the executive committee of the forestry board at a meeting held recently in Blairsville.

The resolution, adopted with all members of the board present, deploring the incident and accepted unequivocally the statement of Captain Dietrich made to physicians before his death as to the shooting. The resolution further called on authorities to see that justice is done "in the premises in righting this public wrong."

SECRETARY M'LENDON'S

UNHAPPY OUTSIDE, VELMA ANTICIPATES 10-YEAR REST
Behind Drab Prison Walls

Marysville, Ohio, March 7.—(United News.)—Dressed in the dull gray garb provided for reformatory inmates, Mrs. Velma West today began the quest for happiness she had missed as the wife of T. Edward West, Perry, Ohio, nurseryman.

The girl who became bored with the small-town life of Perry seemed strangely happy as she submitted to the medical examination and taking of Bertillon measurements required by prison regulations.

She said she was happy when the prison sentence was announced and her conduct today seemed to bear out her prediction that she would find happiness within the walls of her prison.

Early today she was taken from her cell in Painesville jail and under guard of deputy sheriffs was brought here by automobile. She was prepared immediately for her life sentence.

Unless she receives a parole for which she is eligible after ten years, the former Cleveland society girl will spend the rest of her life behind prison bars.

A year ago, Velma Van Woert was one of the leading members of her set in Cleveland where she lived with her parents. She was always welcome at parties and her blues song never failed to make a hit. She played bridge, smoked, and danced with the younger crowd.

Then she met young West, son of a prominent nurseryman of Perry, Ohio, a town of about 5,000 population. After a rapid courtship, they were married and started housekeeping on West's $25 a week salary.

But here things were different from her former life. She smoked, which was something the Perry folks could not understand. Her dresses were too short and her customs did not seem to fit with the "Main street" life of the small town.

Her dissatisfaction led to quarrels and after a short squabble with her husband, December 6, over her going to a bridge party in Cleveland, she used a small hammer to murder him.

Changing her clothes she drove to Cleveland where she was arrested the next day.

This man will never grow old

Full of pep at 60. Never expects to get too old to enjoy life. Has found secret.

HE'S ALWAYS astonishing people by introducing a lanky grandson or a flapper great-niece. For he's one of those men who seem young. With a clear skin, a springy step. And a laugh like a boy's. Actually he's reaching the age when most men think about retiring from business.

"Why should I retire?" he asks. "Never felt better in my life. All I ever need to keep well is Nujol. And that's not medicine." He's right. Nujol is a natural substance, perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). It contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. But it keeps the body functioning normally. For Nujol not only prevents any excess of the body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal.

There's no age limit on Nujol. Doctors put babies on it soon after they're born. School children take it. Mothers and fathers. And the very old folks, too.

Maybe you think you feel perfectly well. Perhaps you suspect you don't. Anyway, try taking Nujol and see if there isn't a difference. Take it for 3 months. It can't do any harm to try. And it might do a lot of good. Everyone else who's tried it says so. Be sure you get the genuine.

This Rug Likes Tough Job

Showing the wear-resisting qualities of Bozart fireproof and waterproof rugs, the J. M. High company, which is introducing the floor coverings to Atlanta exclusively, Tuesday night spread this rug in front of its Whitehall street department store for all Atlanta to tread on. Officials estimate that each day's service on the sidewalk in front of the High company is equivalent to from one to two years of normal service in the home. Bozart rugs are said to be suitable for any place in homes or public places and will resist the hardest wear under all circumstances.

Gold Coins Corroded After Long Entombment In Church Cornerstone

Circumstances which may, or may not, have a bearing on the controversy over the now famous horned head of Eastland, Texas, which survived entombment in a cornerstone for 31 years, were brought to light in Atlanta Wednesday when workmen demolishing the old Central avenue Methodist church, colored, Hunter street and Central avenue, tore away the cornerstone.

Two coins, a Bible and a number of papers were found. Moisture and air seeping through the cornerstone had corroded the coins to considerable extent and had reduced the papers almost to pulp.

Sixty-three years of seclusion in the stone had decomposed the papers to such an extent that the printing was not decipherable. One of the coins was a Mexican dollar, minted in 1847, and the other was a gold dollar, minted in 1852. The coins were presented to Dr. W. J. Auten, county physician, who attended school and Sunday school in the old building when it was used by a white congregation.

The stone was inscribed, "Erected A. D. 1865—W. N. Parkins, architect." The church is being demolished to make way for the Central avenue viaduct.

L. H. Moss was reelected president of the Federation of Jewish Charities, the principal local philanthropic organization of the Jewish community, at the annual meeting Wednesday night, in the Jewish Educational alliance. At the same time announcement was made of the appointment of Edward M. Kahn as executive director, to take charge of the institutions comprising the federation.

Other officers to serve during 1928 are J. Jacobs, first vice president; E. Feinelman, second vice president; Mrs. J. E. Sommerfield, third vice president; Joseph B. Wolfe, treasurer; and Mrs. Sam Schoen, secretary. Twenty-four members were elected to the board of directors.

A feature of the meeting included reading of reports of the federation, the Jewish Educational alliance, the Morris Lichtenstein Free Loan fund and the Morris Hirsch clinic.

GRANT CONCESSION IN BRITISH SAMOA TO MAN DEMANDS

Apia, British Samoa, March 7.—(AP)—In the face of a demand by 200 of 400 imprisoned members of the Mau, League of Samoa, for the right of natives to rule western (British) Samoa, without white officials, Administrator Sir George Richardson issued terms today under which the natives shall obey the administration's law and conform directly with the administrator on all their desires.

The procedure by which natives shall communicate with the administrator, the terms state, shall be through native district councils and, through European representatives. This provision apparently is aimed to prevent recurrence of recent demonstrations against the government which followed deportation of three European leaders of the Mau after their conviction on charges of attempting to subvert the government.

Atlantans Term Heifetz Greatest Living Violinist

That Jascha Heifetz, at 26, is the greatest living violinist in the world, not excepting Fritz Kreisler, is the opinion voiced by a number of Atlantans who heard the young Russian when he gave his sensational recital this winter at Carnegie hall, in New York.

When Heifetz returned from a two-year tour of the world his managers booked him for a New York recital to launch a tour of the United States. Several weeks in advance of the engagement, however, every seat in Carnegie hall was sold and so great was the demand that it was decided to extend the engagement to three nights instead of one.

Even then, however, several thousand would-be auditors were turned away.

Among those who succeeded in hearing the famous violinist, however, were a number of Atlantans and since then they have been extravagant in their praises of the young master of the bow. "The improvement in Heifetz playing, both technically and emotionally, is astounding," said one Wednesday. A reference to the playing of Kreisler brought the flat statement that Heifetz stands second to none today.

Heifetz gives his Atlanta recital on Friday night at the auditorium, coming as one of the artist series of the Southern Music bureau. Seats are now on sale at the box office in Cable Piano company, North Broad street, and may also be secured at Phillips & Crew Piano Co., Peachtree and Ellis streets.

Indications point to a splendid crowd for the concert and S. Russell Bridges, president of the bureau, stated Wednesday that it would be advisable not to defer making reservations any longer than possible, though the box office will be open at the auditorium on the night of the concert.

MRS. COOLIDGE RETURNS TO THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Coolidge returned to the white house today after an absence of about a week at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Lenora Goodhue, who is ill at Northampton, Mass.

FILM STAR BRIDE WAS INTOLERABLE, HUSBAND ASSERTS

Los Angeles, March 7.—(United News.)—Midge Bellamy, film star, forced him to leave their home four days after their marriage, Logan Metcalf, bond broker, charged in a suit for divorce filed here late today. The actress also refused to wear her wedding ring and ordered Metcalf around in an intolerable manner, he recounted in the complaint, which charged general cruelty.

Metcalf and Miss Bellamy were married in Tijuana, Mexico, January 24, 1928.

Belmont Hospitality

BILLY MULHALL

BILLY MULHALL, the Belmont's head bar tender, was a total abstainer long before the United States went dry, but for thirty years he was the best known cocktail artist operating in the bright lights of Broadway. For a time he was at the Hoffman House where his sartorial splendor, opulent demeanor, uncanny memory for faces, names, and pet drinks gave him a national renown.

In his youth "Billy" was a vaudeville performer in the same company with Nat Goodwin, Henry E. Dixie, of "Adonis" fame, hunts up Mulhall at the Belmont every time he gets to New York.

Twice he has refused offers to go to London. England is too far away from Broadway and the Belmont.

Mother Whipped Girl, 16, Attendance Steadily Increases as Bible Leaders Open Last Half of Annual Eight-Day Conference

"ONLY WAY TO HANDLE HER," DECLARE PARENTS And Promises Her Another

Kansas City, Kan., March 7.—(AP)—Expressing resentment because her 16-year-old daughter caused her arrest following a spanking, Mrs. Charles Woodside faced a police court summons here today with the announcement she would continue disciplinary measures should the girl return home.

Arrested yesterday on a complaint charging assault, which was sworn out by her daughter, Lorene, the mother admitted whipping the girl Sunday after she had returned from a ride in the Woodside automobile.

"I beat her," Mrs. Woodside told authorities, "I'll admit I did and I knew every time I struck her it made a mark. It is the only way I can control her. The minute she gets back under my roof again she will get another whipping, but it won't be quite so severe."

"I will let her come back and will treat her nice, because down in my heart I know I will whip her. And when I whip her I take all her clothes off so that I know she will feel it."

While welfare officials sought to effect a reconciliation, Lorene gave her version.

"My mother has furnished me with wonderful clothes, an education and allowed me to have a good time," Lorene said, "but you don't know how she is when she is angry. I am afraid to go home."

The girl then told of returning from a nearby city Sunday and of being questioned by her mother as to whether she visited a party as she had been asked to do.

When she replied in the negative, Lorene declared her mother seized her and struck her several times with a clothes hanger.

Lorene said she remained at home Sunday night, but the next day she feared to return and asked the advice of Miss Inez MacKinnon, her teacher. Miss MacKinnon took the girl to her home where she has remained since.

Mrs. Woodside, step-father of Lorene, told welfare officials, "the only way my wife can control Lorene is by whipping her."

Mrs. Woodside operates a hotel here.

SPECIALISTS STUDY CASE OF STUDENT

Cleveland medical men are studying the case of Helen L. Buschmann, 19-year-old Lake Erie college student, who has lived for 52 days while the brain and body have been paralyzed.

The student, whose home is at Westfield, N. Y., lapsed into unconsciousness after being struck by an automobile January 15. Since brought to the hospital here she has not spoken and except for occasional nervous gestures has not moved.

Dr. Claude Beck, a Cleveland surgeon, and a number of associates who have examined Miss Buschmann said that when struck by the automobile many tiny cells which make up the brain were shattered. The separation, he said, resulted in breaking the nervous current through the brain, making thought impossible. He said shattering of the brain has affected the entire nervous system so that, except for involuntary twitchings, her body is paralyzed and inert.

Miss Buschmann has been fed artificially for the 52 days. Her digestive organs are functioning properly, Dr. Beck said, and her respiration, pulse and temperature are normal.

Dr. Beck said that success of attempts to bring Miss Buschmann back to a normal state will depend on the recuperative powers of her brain.

CANADIAN GALLOW'S IS MADE READY FOR AMERICAN GIRL

Montreal, Que., March 7.—(United News)—Friends and attorneys of Doris McDonald were in Ottawa today working to save her from hanging March 23, but the executioner, nevertheless, began his grim work of preparing the gallows for her death.

Appeals to Minister of Justice Lapointe, in Ottawa, with whom Mrs. McDonald's fate at present rests, have drawn no pronouncement from the minister to date.

The feeling prevailed that even though she were shown clemency, her husband, George McDonald, could not escape execution for the murder of Adelaide Bonchard, taxi driver, of Lachine, Quebec.

Ragsdale, Governor L. G. Hardman and other prominent citizens. From left to right, Dr. Harry Ironsides, of California; Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport; Dr. William Lamb, of Australia; Mayor Ragsdale, Governor Hardman; Dr. Will H. Houghton, pastor of the tabernacle; Miss Jean LaMonte, of Chicago; Dr. J. C. Massee, of Boston, and Charles W. Outlaw, of Atlanta.

With one of the greatest arrays of famous preachers and Bible teachers ever gathered together, the eight-day annual Bible conference now in progress at the Baptist tabernacle Thursday opens the last half of its series of meetings.

Crowds attending the morning, afternoon and night sessions, which have been held daily since Sunday, have steadily increased and indications are that the capacity of the tabernacle, which seats more than 3,000 people, will not be sufficient for some of the meetings before the series ends.

Speakers at the meetings Thursday, which will be held at 10 and 11 a. m. and at 2:30 and 3:30 p. m. will include Dr. Harry Ironsides, of California; Dr. William Lamb, of Australia; Dr. J. C. Massee, of Boston; Dr. M. E. Dodd, of Shreveport, and Miss Jean LaMonte, of Chicago.

Dr. Will H. Houghton, pastor of the tabernacle, presides at the sessions.

An added feature of the meeting at 7:30 tonight will be a special musical program by the famous Emory Four quartette.

Supper will be served for all young people at 6:15 tonight prior to the illustrated Bible lesson for young people given by Miss LaMonte.

The sanitarium, when erected, is to be operated under direction of the state tuberculosis board, with patients to be admitted under certain rules and regulations, the various counties to bear the expense.

The act appropriates $200,000 for establishment and maintenance of the sanitarium.

British Captain Taken on Charge Of Resistance

Miami, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Captain William H. Wheeler, of the British ship Isle of June, today was arrested on a charge of resisting an officer, being charged with greeting a coast guard boarding party with a rifle when the vessel was confiscated here Monday. He later was released under $1,000 bond pending hearing.

The action followed Captain Wheeler's alleged failure to heed eight warning shots fired across his bows by the coast guard destroyer Cassin off Miami early Monday. Wheeler, it was said, paid no attention to the shots, but drove his vessel to port here, where it was seized.

Wheeler, it was alleged, was threatened by Boatwain Stutter, one of the boarding party.

The Isle of June was released after a search failed to reveal any contraband, but Wheeler was held then for failure to heed the coast guard warning to heave-to at sea. No action has been taken on this charge.

Wheeler declared that the shots across the bows of his vessel were fired outside the territorial limits of the United States by Commander W. N. Derby, in command of the destroyer which fired the shots, charged that Wheeler was drunk.

HUSBAND AND WIFE WIN IN ELECTIONS FOR PARLIAMENT

Penzance, England, March 7.—(AP)—The first woman liberal in the present British parliament and the first husband and wife combination in the house of commons, have resulted from Tuesday's bi-election in St. Ives.

Mrs. Walter Runciman, wife of the liberal member from Swansea, West, not only became the first woman liberal in the present house, but succeeded in capturing the St. Ives constituency from the conservatives.

Mr. Runciman, who is a prominent figure in the liberal party, actively supported his wife's candidacy. David Lloyd George, the liberal leader, did not speak in behalf of Mrs. Runciman, who has shown a decidedly independent spirit politically, and the public had watched closely to see if the liberals could win without their chief's participation in the campaign.

Mrs. Runciman will be the eighth woman member of the house.

Clean-Up Week.

Dawson, Ga., March 7.—(Special.)—The week beginning next Monday has been set aside as "Clean-Up Week" in Dawson. Mrs. J. M. Griggs, of the Woman's club, and Mayor R. R. Martin, as heads of the clean-up campaign, urgently request that all citizens of Dawson do their utmost to rid their premises of any matter that should be removed, not only to beautify the town but as a health measure as well.

CHATTOOGA VETERAN LAID TO FINAL REST

Summerville, Ga., March 7.—(Special.)—Francis Marion Fisher, Confederate veteran and former postmaster for many years at Beaufort, in the eastern part of Chattooga county, died Tuesday at the home of his son, F. M. Fisher, at this place, after a several months' illness.

Mr. Fisher was born in Lumpkin county, Georgia, July 7, 1839. He came to Chattooga county in early boyhood and has been a resident of the county ever since. It is said Mr. Fisher's death leaves only 11 old Confederate soldiers on the pension list in Chattooga county.

Funeral services were held at Dry Creek cemetery, near Mr. Fisher's old home, Wednesday, conducted by the Rev. Orlan Clark, of Sublinga. Burial was in Dry Creek cemetery.

Mr. Fisher is survived by several children and grandchildren. F. M. Fisher, Jr., of this place, is his son and Mrs. Warren Elsberry, of Dry Creek, is a daughter.

Treaty Signed.

Paris, March 7.—(United News).—A Franco-Italian commercial treaty, renewable every three months, was signed here today by Minister of Commerce Maurice Bokanowski and Italian Ambassador Count Manzoni. The agreement is along the general lines of similar treaties with the United States, Germany, Belgium and Switzerland.

LEWIS LAYS COAL CHAOS ON ROADS

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—Depicting deplorable economic conditions in the central competitive bituminous fields, John I. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, today laid the situation primarily to what he termed a conspiracy among the railroads.

This conspiracy has a two-fold purpose, to reduce coal costs to the carriers and to keep down the level of wages for miners and railroad men, Lewis charged as he presented the opening statement for the now unemployed union miners in the senate investigation ordered under the Johnson resolution.

While making this the primary foundation for his complaint, Lewis detailed many other factors entering into the whole education of the ill that beset operators and union and non-union miners alike. He protested vigorously against the use of iron and coal and other private police clothed with the sovereign powers of the state and against the operation of injunctions issued by the federal courts to restrain the union men.

Abrogation of the Jacksonville wage agreement before its expiration also was dwelt upon at length, and Lewis called attention that among the first companies to break the wage contract were the Consolidated Coal Company of West Virginia and the Pittsburgh Coal company, of Pennsylvania. He asserted that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a controlling factor in the former, while the latter is generally recognized in financial circles as a Mellon concern.

In connection with this action by these two companies, Lewis disclosed through correspondence that after the wage agreements had been broken he asked President Coolidge whether the federal government, which had been instrumental in bringing about the Jacksonville conference, intended to interfere, and he received a negative reply. This was in November and December, 1925.

The president wrote that the government was not a party to the contract and consequently had no status in enforcement. He suggested that the unions take the matter into the courts, adding that if no enforcement could be found there "the lawmaking powers should enact legislative measures necessary to enable the courts to give such relief in the future."

On the stand before the interstate commerce committee all day, Lewis read into the record a 50-page statement of conditions and wound up with suggestions for remedies for some of the ills of the industry and the workers. Chief among these was the curbing of the power of the federal courts to issue injunctions in labor disputes and the amendment of the interstate commerce act "so as to prevent the railroads from practicing methods designed to exploit the bituminous industry, further reduce wages and destroy the miners' union."

SLAYER OF SONS IS TWICE INDICTED

Crown Point, Ind., March 7.—(United News.)—George A. Chisholm, Canadian war veteran, who confessed last Sunday that he tied weights to his two small sons and drowned them in the Indiana harbor ship canal was indicted late today on two counts of first degree murder.

Chisholm's written confession in which he told in detail of deceiving his two boys, George, 9, and Edgar, 6, in order to get them away from home on the night of February 6, to dispose of them was the evidence used in obtaining the indictments.

The 35-year-old father told the boys he was taking them to see their grandmother in Montreal. They laughed and played on the way to the canal and the father deceptively joined in their playful spirit by having the boys wrap wire around themselves to "play cowboy."

This wire was used by the father to attach heavy iron rails to each boy before he threw them in the canal. A third son, Robert, twin of George, escaped a similar fate by refusing to accompany his father.

The indictments returned by the Lake county grand jury, followed closely reports that the British consul general's office in Chicago was making inquiries to determine if Chisholm is a subject of Great Britain.

Joseph Connor, one of the veteran's attorneys, intimated that the consulate might aid in the defense of the slayer, if he still is a British subject.

An insanity plea will be the main defense. "Chisholm is not a sane man," the attorney said. He also will contend that the confessions were obtained under duress.

Police Find New Clue to Missing College Student

Northampton, Mass., March 7.—(AP)—With the arrest of a man who removed from a postoffice box a decoy package mailed in response to a ransom demand of $50,000 postal inspectors and police hoped today that they might be nearing a solution of the mystery of the disappearance of Miss Frances St. John Smith.

Michael Binns, 25-year-old textile mill employee of this city, postal inspectors said, confessed that he had rented the postal box under an assumed name three days before Miss Smith disappeared. He had lived for a student at Smith college, dropped out of sight on January 13.

After questioning Binns for hours, the inspectors went into conference with a state detective and Major Thomas J. Hammond, legal adviser to the wealthy St. John Smith, father of the girl and a retired New York broker.

Heavy bail was sought pending an investigation into the possibility that the man might hold the key to the disappearance of the 19-year-old freshman for whom a nation-wide search was conducted.

The Smith family two weeks ago received a letter which dictated that $50,000 in bills, unregistered and uninsured, be mailed to postoffice box No. 515.

Acting under directions, the family mailed a package which was stuffed with paper and bore a New York city cancellation. When the package arrived here a string was attached to it which ran from the box to an electric buzzer in the postmaster's office.

Binns was nabbed last night just after he opened the box. After long questioning he broke down and had hired the box and written the letter.

"I must have been drunk," they quoted him as saying. He was unable to explain, however, how he had come to acquire the box three days before the girl disappeared. He has lived here for 16 years and has a wife and three children. For seven years he has had a regular postoffice box under his own name.

Cotton Fabric Fashion Show Contest Staged By A. M. Robinson Company Is Great Success

Reading from left to right, the photograph presents Miss Mary B. Moreland, first prize winner from the F. & W. Grand company in Atlanta for the most stylish gown made out of rayon, while Mrs. W. R. Coleman, of Roswell, won second prize offered in the same class. Miss Mattie Lou Rosser, of Williston, S. C., was first prize winner in the most stylish gown fashioned from cotton materials, and represented J. H. Kennedy company. Miss Frances Reese, of Griffin Mercantile company, won second prize in the cotton goods class. Photographed by George Cornett, staff photographer.

BY BESSIE S. STAFFORD.

That dressmaking has not become a lost art was evidenced in the practical fashion show contest staged Wednesday by A. M. Robinson company on Pryor street, Borden's cotton and rayon materials being employed to fashion the costumes. Retail stores from every section of Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama entered the contest, the costumes having been made especially for competition in the show and demonstrated keen appreciation of the correct style demanded by the fabrics selected for such usage. Miss Lenore McCormack, from the educational department of M. C. D. Rorden & Sons, Inc., foremost authority on dressmaking, has been in Atlanta for several days relative to launching this campaign looking to warms educating women in selecting a smart pattern suitable for the attractive materials put on the market by this firm, acted as one of the judges. She wore a three-piece suit of Tyndal cloth, with a linen finish, the white background showing a modernistic design in red and black, and the coat was lined with red, the costume having been made by Miss McCormack especially for the A. M. Robinson style show, so as to exhibit at firsthand to retailers the very stylish result of making clothes from Borden's materials.

The first prize of $250 offered by A. M. Robinson and M. C. D. Rorden & Sons, was awarded to Miss Mary Bones Moreland, representing the F. & W. Grand store of Atlanta, wearing a gown made from rayon fabric. Mrs. W. R. Coleman, of the Roswell Department store, won second prize of $50 offered for the next best rayon costume. Miss Onie Hair, of Williston, S. C., representing J. H. Kennedy & Co. of that city, won first prize of $75 offered for the most stylish dress made out of cotton fabrics. The dress was worn by Miss Mattie Lou Rosser. A second prize of $25 offered in the same class was won by Miss Ezra Goen, of the Griffin Mercantile company. This dress was worn by Miss Frances Reese. The fabrics varied in price from 10 cents to 75 cents, and the prize costumes will be sent to New York and displayed in the Borden store in the metropolis. The list of stores competing in the contest included: Elberton, Roswell, Bowden, Atlanta, Woodstock, Douglasville, Lavonia, Gainesville, Tallapoosa, Griffin, Milledgeville, Summerville, Sasser, Monroe, Newnan, Meigs, Lawrenceville, S. C. C. Roanoke, Ala., and Williston, S. C.

Among the many excellent features connected with the ambitious fashion show contest staged by A. M. Robinson to stimulate interest in dressmaking and the use of cotton fabrics, was a stylish stout model worn by Mrs. Marvin Bagley, of Alpharetta. Rayon pajamas added another interesting note to the show, introducing the use of material for such purposes. Small clusters of yellow, red and blue flowers being thrown on a white background, the latter giving the key to the white coat, offset by a yoke banded in the flowered material. Miss McCormack made a brief talk on "Fabric and Design," bringing to a close her successful and stimulating engagement with the cutting and making of a dress in 25 minutes, which was displayed by one of the models. The gown being a two-piece model of English garden print, collared anduffed in organically harmonizing shade.

Miss Mary Baynes, who won the rayon prize in the style show promoted by the A. M. Robinson company, was winner of this same division in the show held by the F. & W. ## DRYS WILL PROBE BOTH CANDIDATES

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 7.—(AP) The southeastern prohibition conference of the Anti-Saloon League ended a four-day session here late tonight after affirming its unequivocal opposition to any wet candidates for the presidential nomination and hearing a suggestion for a national dry convention to check up on the outcome of those of the two major political parties.

P. H. Callahan, Louisville, manufacturer, made the proposal for a national convention of friends of prohibition.

"I shall suggest to the executive committee of the league," he declared, "that within two or three weeks after the Kansas City and Houston conventions we hold a convention of our own with delegates from every state to consider the candidates and platforms of the respective parties and their programs of law enforcement."

"Vote slackers" of both sex were charged by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, of Beverly, Mass., general chairman of the woman's national committee for law enforcement, with as much responsibility as "those who vote the wrong ticket" for what she said was the present corruption in government.

Making her second address of the day at the convention, Mrs. Peabody said there are "twelve million women pledged to clean up our government and who are going to vote loyally," adding that "we hold the balance of power."

Mrs. Peabody closed what she termed tion and the race for treasurer. Late returns from these, however, received at 1 o'clock this morning, failed to change the totals and left Captain Hope and Mrs. MacNeill in the lead.

Those well versed in political history recalled that in the primary of March, 1924, the Buckhead precinct changed the race for solicitor of the criminal court of Atlanta and gave Roy Dorsey, at that time Mr. McClelland's opponent, a majority of 103.

Statements by Candidates.

Walter H. Stewart, who was nominated for commissioner, issued a statement thanking his friends for their loyal and faithful support and pledging anew his best efforts "for the good of Fulton county, its progress and prosperity."

"It is gratifying to know that the people of Fulton county have honored me by so large a vote, and I wish to express my appreciation to the thousands who so loyally supported me," Mr. Stewart said. "I pledge my best efforts in behalf of the progress and prosperity of the county."

"I am gratified by the majority which the voters of the county gave me," Mr. McClelland declared. "It is with a deep sense of gratitude that I express my appreciation for the confidence reposed in me. I shall devote my every energy to merit that trust."

"I am overwhelmed with appreciation and promise to do my utmost to merit the trust which has been shown in me," Mrs. MacNeill stated.

"Words fail to express the feeling of gratitude which I feel for the nomination for the fourth consecutive term," Sheriff Lowry said. "I shall continue to give voters of the county the same efficient, courteous service which I have rendered in the past."

"I have a heart full of gratitude to the thousands of loyal supporters and friends who supported me in such a wonderful manner," Mr. Johnson said.

"I and my associates thank them from the very bottom of our hearts and promise an efficient administration of the office to which we have been elevated."

Failure of the Nicaraguan congress to pass the necessary law providing for American supervision of the Nicaraguan elections has brought about what state department officials consider an extremely grave situation. The attitude of the American government, it became known today, is that further delay on the part of the Nicaraguan congress to pass the law may compel the United States to consider immediately steps that may be necessary for fulfillment of the obligations created by the agreement.

Just what steps might be taken by the United States should the Nicaraguan congress fail to pass the law has not been made known but state department officials feel that during the short remaining session of the national legislature at Managua the law will be enacted.

THE commercial progress and growing financial strength of the South are so closely related to the continued expansion of the telephone service that the past year's achievements of the Southern Bell Telephone System are of more than ordinary interest.

To meet the growth of the nine Southeastern states last year, the telephone workers installed 186,436 new telephones and removed 139,583, making a net gain of 45,853 new telephones and involving an expenditure of $25,275,301, not including operating properties purchased.

Practically all of this huge sum was new money secured from investors or borrowed from people who have faith in the future of the South and confidence in the permanency of the telephone business.

At the end of the year the company was serving 1,293,367 telephones in the nine Southeastern states. Of these 900,441 were Bell owned, 354,890 were owned by other companies, but connected with the Bell System, and 38,036 were located in farm homes.

Telephone Expansion Reflects the Progress of the South

38,476 miles of pole line and 3,252 miles of underground duct.

To build, operate and manage this great telephone system requires an army of skilled men and women whose annual pay roll amounts to $24,535,301.

The tax bill for the year 1927 was the largest in the history of the company, amounting to $5,094,200. This was an increase of 422 per cent over the tax bill of 1916.

There was an outstanding improvement in the speed and scope of the long distance service and in the efficiency of the local service last year. The number of calls was greater than ever, and the improved speed and accuracy of the service won commendation from our customers.

The continued friendly attitude of our customers and of the public, and their confidence in the stability of the telephone industry was substantially indicated by their investments in telephone securities. There are now 15,123 stockholders in the Bell System in this section who own 288,186 shares of stock.

The investment in service reached a total of $183,814,300 on December 31, 1927, not including $1,334,788 of construction work in progress. This investment includes such permanent property as 891 central offices with switchboards and other associated equipment; 3,324,052 miles of wire (3.7 per telephone);

In presenting the detailed results of last year's operations, we continue the policy of taking our customers and the public fully into our confidence. It also affords us an opportunity to again express the appreciation of the telephone workers for your friendly interest and co-operation.

GAS AGE-RECORD

Atlanta Sells 909 Ranges at $37 in Six Days

By J. M. Stafford, Jr.
Georgia Power Company, Atlanta, Ga.

37
NOVEMBER 7th!

A street car sign used as a teaser

THE Georgia Power Company, with headquarters in Atlanta, has had considerable national publicity this year in the sale of electrical merchandise. But—just to show the gas industry in general that they can and do push gas merchandise, H. A. Pendergraph, merchandise manager in charge of Atlanta sales, announced that they have just completed what they very seriously consider a record for the sale of gas ranges. This Georgia company is a thorough believer in short, snappy sales campaigns and, accordingly, set up a quota of 300 Clark Jewel gas ranges to be sold in the short space of six days and, one week! Well, to have even reached the quota would have been satisfactory to many merchandisers, but not so with Atlanta, for at the end of the sixth day they had secured bona fide orders for 909 ranges or 30 per cent of their quota!

Teaser Publicity

Atlantans were more or less bewildered three days before the beginning of the campaign at a street car dash-sign which read, in mammoth letters, "37 November 7th". And then on the day preceding the sale one that read like this: "57 Minus 20 Equals 37." Then, the day the sale began: "A $37 Clark Jewel Gas Range for $37." Of course, after this, the secret was out, just as it should have been. Supportive advertising was a similar series of "teasers" run in the three Atlanta daily newspapers. That publicity was evidenced by the fact that on the first strength of the first announcement in the morning newspaper, The Atlanta Constitution, 335 ranges were sold the first day.

Beside the $33,633 received in gross merchandise sales and the natural expected increase in consumption of a new range, replacing an old, 252 new gas customers were added to the main in this short space of one week. These 252 new customers secured will give an estimated increase in cubic feet of gas of $288,000 per annum. The estimated dollar value of this revenue is $9,746.40 per year. (Two thousand cubic feet was taken as the average monthly consumption of this type of gas range in Atlanta.) The total column inches of newspaper space was 396, at a cost of $780.36. The cost of printing car cards approximated $55.

Quotas and Standings of Stores

Each of the company's five stores in Atlanta were given a definite quota of ranges to be sold during the special sale. Prizes, as indicated below, were awarded on a quota basis. Following are the quotas and number of ranges sold, together with per cent of quota:

Store	Quota	Number Sold	Per Cent of Quota
1. Main store	100	145	145%
2. Decatur store	50	143	286%
3. Euclid Avenue store	50	140	280%
4. West End store	50	112	224%

GEORGIA POWER COMPANY

Left: The first announcement. Right: Copy used on fourth day

A few weeks ago the Georgia Power Co. conducted an active selling campaign on gas ranges, as reported in the article reproduced herewith from the "Gas Age Record." 909 ranges were sold during the 6-day campaign—but note this:

"On the strength of the first announcement advertisement in the morning newspaper, THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, 335 ranges were sold the first day."

Follow-up copy throughout the week brought many additional sales—but on this one Constitution advertisement alone, 335 ranges were sold. The Atlanta Constitution reaches people who have money to spend—money to spend for your products just as they have for gas ranges. It reaches the largest and most responsive audience of any daily newspaper in the five Southeastern states.

As an indication of local coverage it is interesting to note that while there are a total of 41,488 gas meters in the Atlanta metropolitan area, The Constitution has a total city circulation of 42,314—100% coverage—PLUS!

Woman's Board Of Oglethorpe Holds Meeting

With spring blossoms and spring frocks of beautiful color and texture leading an atmosphere of fresh charm to the assembly, the Woman's board of Oglethorpe university met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Conklin, the occasion being marked by a most enjoyable reception in compliment to the talented young people who took part in the Petrol Follies.

The spacious rooms of Mrs. Conklin's lovely home were adorned with great clusters of daffodils gathered from the garden of Mrs. E. Rivers, president of the woman's board.

A brief business session of the board preceded the reception. At this time plans for raising $100,000 pledged by the Woman's Board were discussed and Mrs. Rivers presented the first checks towards the fund, paying in full her pledge of $1,000.

Another pledge of $1,000 from the floor was made during the meeting, and, previous to this, pledges of several thousands dollars more had been made by members of the board.

Following the suggestion of Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, it was decided to credit all contributions from the Woman's board for the year to come to the university endowment fund, unless specifically requested to do otherwise. Mrs. J. K. Otley, chairman of the executive committee spoke of the plan to handle contributions in this way and the board as a whole voted to adopt the idea.

Dr. Jacobs spoke of the work at the university and stated that Oglethorpe already, in such a short period of time, had attained an academic atmosphere that was most pleasing. Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, president of the Woman's club, spoke briefly, telling of the university extension work undertaken by the Atlanta Woman's club under the guidance of Dr. H. J. Gaertner, of the Oglethorpe faculty.

Mrs. Rivers called attention to the beautiful framing of the picture presented some months ago to the university—an exquisite painting showing a part of the court house square of Camden, S. C., the work of Miss Blundell Malone.

Mrs. High in responding to Mrs. Rivers' presentation of the framed picture, told of the ceremonies to be held Saturday afternoon at Piedmont park, at which time the Temple of Patriotism recently erected on the far side of the lake will be dedicated. At that time also several of the women were dedicated, one to Lindbergh; one to Dr. Thornwell Jacobs and one to James Edward Oglethorpe, Mrs. High having arranged for the marking of these trees with hand-painted plates.

Dr. James Routh spoke of plans for spring plays to be given by the Players' club at the Erlanger theater on March 27 and the Women's board again pledged its cooperation in making a success of the performance.

Mrs. J. W. Peacock will have charge of the tickets for the Women's board and any one desiring tickets can secure them by telephoning Mrs. Peacock.

Mrs. Conklin was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. John Knox, Jr., Mrs. De Sales Harrison, Mrs. Joseph Murphy, Mrs. Bruce Woodruff, Mrs. Hugh T. Inman, Mrs. Eugene McNeel, Mrs. Sam Inman, Jr., Mrs. Hunter Bell, Mrs. George McGarry, Mrs. W. E. Yanker, Mrs. Samuel Inman poured tea and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft served coffee.

Mrs. Kennedy Honored At Informal Parties.

Maricetta, Ga., March 7.—Mrs. Ralph Northington was hostess at luncheon Friday at her home on Church street in compliment to Mrs. C. P. Kennedy, of Barboursville, Ky., the house guest of Mrs. Arthur Williams. Covers were placed for Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. G. P. Reynolds, Mrs. Ed Massey, Mrs. Campbell Wallace, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Evan Howell and Mrs. Northington.

Cataracts.
F wants to know why so many healthy, elderly people have cataracts, and are they considered curable?
* * *

I'll give you a resume, F., of what a standard book on the eyes says of cataract.

Cataract is any clouding of the eye lens or of its capsule or both. There are two main types—primary and secondary. These are subdivided into hard and soft, fluid, complete, partial, etc.

According to the causes, cataracts are: 1, congenital, due to faulty development in utero; 2, due to lack of iodine in fat, lime, iron and other minerals, and in vitamins, and is easily digested by most people in any form, raw or cooked. The white of the egg, on the other hand, is almost pure protein. Some observers have found in their exvelopment or to brutal inflammation of the eye; 2, senile (this is the most common form); 3, hereditary; 4, cataract due to general diseases—diabetes and nephritis are the most common; 5, occupation—glass blowers and others exposed to great heat; 6, injury; 7, other eye diseases, such as ulcers.

The senile type, the most frequent form of cataract, usually comes after the 50th year. Most always both eyes are affected, but usually one eye in advance of the other. Senile cataract is not normal, but is always a diseased process, age being but a predisposing factor.

The treatment in most cases is operative. The lens is removed from the eye. The most favorable time for removal is when the lens is completely opaque, or, as the common term has it, when it is ripe. If it is removed before this time, it is difficult to remove wholly, and the results are not satisfactory. Sometimes an after-cataract develops, necessitating another operation. Only one cataract is removed at a time. After the abstraction of the cataract, the patient has to wear special glasses which take the place of the lens. A favorable re-

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The Hive Becomes a Nursery.

Be it girl or be it boy,
The parents' hearts are filled with joy.

—Old Mother Nature.

Whitefoot the Wood Mouse had been right about the bees. There had come a very warm day, as will sometimes happen in the middle of winter. Now bees are such busy folk that they cannot bear to be idle a moment. So during the warmest part of this very many of them had to go outside the hive to see if perchance spring really had come. They were not very lively, but they were lively enough to have stung to death either Whitefoot or Mrs. Whitefoot had they found them in the hive. But Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot remained quiet, hidden in their nest, and when late in the afternoon the air became cooler the bees all returned and hung in a great mass in the top of the hive. Then it was safe for Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot to go out.

After that the days were once more cold and the bees remained quiet. Whitefoot and Mrs. Whitefoot went out every night, sleeping during the middle of the day. They certainly did enjoy their home there in that leafy nest. They were fat with good eating. And they didn't lose any of that fat through worry. You see, there was nothing to worry about.

So the winter passed and there were signs that sweet Mistress Spring would soon arrive. Whitefoot knew that then they would have to move. Yes, sir, he knew that then they would have to move. There was no living in that hive when once the bees were thoroughly awake. He was about to suggest to Mrs. Whitefoot that they must be thinking about moving when on returning to the nest one night he found a surprise which for the time being put all thought of moving out of his head. Guess what that surprise was. You cannot? Then I'll tell you. Whitefoot's nest had become a nursery! In it were five babies.

"Aren't they darlings?" whispered Mrs. Whitefoot.

Of course, Whitefoot said they were. But, down in his heart, he had to admit that he would have liked them much better had they had their eyes open and had they had pretty little fur coats, in stead of no coats at all. Not for the world else would he have told Mrs. Whitefoot that he thought they were the homeliest babies in the world; but that is just what he did think.

Now when a home built just for two has five added to it, even though they be tiny, that home becomes crowded. Whitefoot soon felt out of place. Not only was he uncomfortably crowded there, but he had the feeling that Mrs. Whitefoot much preferred his room to his company. He was right about it, too. She began to hint broadly that this was no longer a bedroom, but a nursery.

"Just as if I didn't know it," mumbled Whitefoot, "I can't step without having a baby under foot. I think I'll move back to that little house in the Old Orchard. There I can at least sleep in peace."

So Whitefoot moved back to the little house in the apple tree on the edge of the Old Orchard, and Mrs. Whitefoot didn't once protest. No, sir, she didn't once protest. The fact is she was too busy to think about Whitefoot. When you have five children...

"Aren't they darlings?" whispered Mrs. Whitefoot.

The next story: "The Whitefoot Family Moves."

Music Club Enjoys All-Bach Program.

Do Atlanta music lovers enjoy Bach? The answer is vitally in the affirmative as proven by the large and attentive audience attending the all-Bach program presented by High Holzman, on Wednesday morning.

Mr. Holzman styled his program as "an informal study of Bach," and in his brief talk he classified Bach as the best investment a student could make in musical study, referring to him as the rock foundation. Then, creating atmosphere for the compositions employed on the program, he gave a survey of the content of the work before it was played. Miss Lucy McDermott played the "Allegro non troppo e energico" and "Adagio" from the "Concerto D Minor" with sincerity and technical skill, reaching the climaxes with dramatic understanding. The "Partita in B flat" played in its entirety—"Prelude, Allemande, Courante, Sarabande, Minuet, and Gigue"—by Miss Caroline Gray, called forth the warmest applause. Mrs. Holzman, given the piano and violin, this gave very delightful variety to the program and was received with prolonged applause. The three movements from "Concerto for Three Pianos D Minor" played by Mrs. Harriet Hirsch, Miss Lucy McDermott, and Miss Irene Lettwich was an interesting and dramatic closing.

This was the sixth recital on the "Morning Musicals" under the efficient chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Chalmers, given this season by the Atlanta Music club.

STONE COMPANY HOST TO BIG CHURCH CLASS

The Stone Baking company played host Tuesday evening to the Alpha class of Wesley Memorial church in a delightful social held in the company's club room. About 60 guests were carried through the plant by guides who explained in detail the works of the plant. They were then served a delicious buffet luncheon consisting of fruit salad, Danish pastries, coffee, velvet ice cream and all kinds of Stone cakes.

A feature of the evening came when Miss Mary Young, vice president of the Alpha class, presented Mrs. Clarence Bradley, hostess of the Stone Baking company, with a box of flowers in token of love and appreciation for her efforts in behalf of the Alpha class and Wesley Memorial church.

The class later held a business session, with Albert Taylor, president, presiding.

2 BOYS, PAWNBROKER HELD IN STORE THEFT

Capture of two youths alleged to have been implicated in the robbery of the Roswell company, general merchandise store, at Roswell, Ga., more than a week ago, and arrest of a pawnbroker who is charged with buying several suits taken from the store without reporting the purchases to detectives, were announced Wednesday by city detectives.

The youths gave the names of Bill Mobley, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and H. C. Hunter, of 75 East Harris street. Hunter was arrested several days ago while Mobley was taken into custody Tuesday night by detectives for Cobb county authorities. The youths claim that they did not break into the store, but that they secured the clothing from another boy who broke into the store, detectives said.

H. P. Shaniker, a pawnbroker, of 144 Decatur street, was arrested Wednesday afternoon on charge of receiving stolen goods. Detectives said that Shaniker reported buying an overcoat and one suit, but that he failed to report buying three other suits which the two youths said they stole from him. The overcoat and suits were sold for $225. Detectives were fixed at $2,000. Detectives Lowe and Blair made the case.

HANCOCK PRIMARY RESULT INCOMPLETE

Sparta, Ga., March 7.—(Special.)—Probably the most spirited county primary in recent years, closed here late Wednesday with the outcome much in doubt for the county officers having opposition.

The Sparta precinct polled a record vote, nearly 600 voters casting ballots here. These ballots are being counted tonight and the managers will not complete the job before after midnight. From the scattering precincts over the county already heard from J. M. Jackson, incumbent, was leading for sheriff; J. F. Fulghum was leading for tax collector; C. M. Layson, W. B. Harrison, A. E. Jernigan, were leading for three places as county commissioners.

DETROIT-MIAMI AIR SERVICE WITHIN 60 DAYS SEEN LIKELY

Waycross, Ga., March 7.—W. C. Wakefield, president of the proposed Dixie-Northern air line from Miami to Detroit via Jacksonville, Waycross and Atlanta, has written the airport committee here stating, "service in 60 days now seems more than likely."

Mr. Wakefield states that he and his associates have completed an inspection of all the airports along the route and that within the next ten days he will file a complete report of this inspection with the local committee.

Waycross has located its airport and is now busy with its development. It is expected that planes will be using the new field within the next ten days.

Perfect Air-Gun Aim Wounds Boy Who Hits Bullet

Waycross, Ga., March 7.—His perfect marksmanship caused James, the nine-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. W. K. Weeks, to suffer a painful scalp wound Tuesday afternoon.

The lad found a thirty-two caliber cartridge in the back yard. He laid the cartridge on a plank and shot at the cap with an air rifle. On the first try he hit the cap, exploded the cartridge, and was struck on the head when the shell of the cartridge rebounded.

X-ray examinations showed that the skull had not been fractured.

Griffin To Celebrate Laying of Cornerstone At Experiment Station

Griffin, Ga., March 7.—(Special.)—An event of interest over all Georgia will be the laying of the cornerstone of the new office building and library at the Georgia experiment station here Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Raymond Daniel, grand master of the F. and A. M. of Georgia, and J. T. Waltrip, past master of Meridian Sun lodge, of Griffin, will lay the cornerstone, assisted by members of Griffin lodge and Meridian Sun lodge.

The new building will cost about $50,000 and will contain offices, laboratories and a library for the station. The building will be named after the late Judge J. J. Flint, of Griffin, who made possible the bill for the appropriation while he was a member of the state legislature and who for years has been an untiring worker for the interest of the station.

Judge Flint will make a short talk following the laying of the cornerstone. The station has what is considered the most complete library in the south and the new building will house it.

EGG CAR TO BE RUN THROUGH FIVE TOWNS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

A "cooperative pick-up egg car," believed the first of its kind to be operated in Georgia, has been announced by the state bureau of markets for a five-town tour, March 13-15, for the purpose of loading eggs for cooperative marketing by farmers.

The schedule of stops was announced as follows:

Lawrence, March 13, 8 a. m. to 12 noon; Rayston, March 13, 1 p. m. to 7 p. m.; Elberton, March 14, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Comer, March 15, 8 a. m. to 12 noon; Athens, March 15, 1 p. m. to 6 p. m.

At least two experts of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, in addition to representatives of the market bureau, will accompany the car to assist with the loading, the announcement said.

The bureau plans to establish similar "pick-up" cars in various sections of the state later on, officials explained, stating that poultry shipments in Georgia have also improved of late, six cars being sold for farmers cooperatively last week, while six more were in prospect for this week.

He has been connected with Vogue, Condé Nast, Town and Country and the New Yorker in New York where he has a large advertising following.

JOE KIRK ESCAPES FROM PRISON FARM

Milledgeville, Ga., March 7.—(Special.)—Joe Kirk, 50, sentenced to serve life at the state farm from Fulton county and Gordon Donaldson, 35, serving 12 months for larceny in Bulloch county, made their escape from the prison sometime this morning.

The two men were trustees and were assigned to the dairy barn as milkers. Their escape was not reported until 3 o'clock in the afternoon and it is presumed they had a six-hour start before officers took up their trail. A pair of trousers belonging to one of the men were found along the banks of a creek and it is presumed that clothing had been hidden in the woods to exchange for their prison garb. Donaldson would have completed his term in June.

JUGGERNAUT

By Alice Campbell

Esther Rowe, a young nurse, having accompanied an invalid from the United States to France on the Riviera, is about to return to New York when she sees an advertisement in the paper for a nurse and doctor's assistant and she decides to apply for the job. While waiting for an answer to her application to Dr. Sartorius, Esther treats herself to tea at the fashionable Restaurant des Ambassadeurs. She becomes interested in the conversation of a beautiful French woman and her escort, an Englishman, who sit at the next table. On returning to her hotel Esther finds a note from the doctor asking her to report in the morning.

The next day Dr. Sartorius breaks the news to his wife that he has named his son executor of his estate in his will. Lady Clifford flies into a rage.

INSTALLMENT XXIV. COLLAPSE.

Esther noticed that Roger displayed no astonishment whatever, merely glancing expectantly at his father. The old man's lips twisted into a grim smile as he remarked dryly to his wife:

"You behave as if you were quite certain I was going to die, my dear." A swift change came over Therese's face. Pushing Esther aside, she threw herself on her knees beside the bed, grasping her husband's bony hand and pressing it against her cheek emotionally.

"Ah, why do you say such things? You are too cruel; you want to make me suffer."

"See here, Therese," Roger whispered so low that the rather dead old man did not catch his words. "I don't like this arrangement any more than you do, but if we oppose him now it can only do harm. Leave it to me, and when he's well enough I'll tackle him again."

"Very well," Lady Clifford murmured in a chill, detached voice, all passion gone. "You may be right."

She got up, smoothed her hair automatically, drew her peignoir close about her and walked straight out of the room like a woman in a dream.

Esther gazed after her, astonished but relieved. She had feared she would have to remove her by force. Now that the extraordinary episode was over she was quite untroubled, her heart beat fast, her hands trembled, Roger eyed her sympathetically.

"Don't look so upset, Esther," he whispered reassuringly. "You must tell me presently what happened, though I have a pretty good idea."

She smiled at him gratefully, feeling comforted. It was not till later that she realized he had called her "Esther." It had seemed perfectly natural.

Soon after lunch she made an excuse to take her patient's temperature, for she was not yet sure he had suffered no bad effects. However, the thermometer registered no change. Sir Charles may have noticed the relief on her face, for he remarked best tatingly, choosing his words:

"One mustn't take my wife's excitability too much to heart, nurse. It is true she gives up in the at some times, but she always comes down again. She's rather like a spoiled child, but that may be partly my fault."

"Of course, you mustn't think I don't understand," she assured him quickly, thinking what a generous explanation he had given for what seemed to her an unpardonable offense.

It did not surprise her that Lady Clifford should fail to appear at dinner, but she was unprepared for the new development announced by Alina, the maid, who came into the dining room at the close of the meal and somewhat portentously informed the doctor that her ladyship was "tres souffrante," and wished to see him at once.

Miss Clifford glanced quickly at Roger and then at Esther, who both remained impassive.

"It may be nothing at all," Esther said soothingly, just as she had done on a former occasion. "I shouldn't get upset."

However, within a quarter of an hour the doctor summoned Esther to Lady Clifford's room. Lady Clifford certainly showed preliminary symptoms of typhoid, he informed her, so that it would be as well to administer the necessary doses of anti-typhoid. Taking the thing in time like this, there was a good chance of warding it off.

"Naturally we won't mention this to Sir Charles," he added. "He must be allowed to think she's mere suffering from a cold."

The Frenchwoman was lying limp and still in her low, gilded bed, gazing with unseeing eyes at the rose taffeta canopy above. Her hair was pushed back ruthlessly, revealing an unsuspected height of forehead which somewhat altered her appearance. She was very pale, a pallor with a tinge of yellow in it. She received the injection mechanically, paying almost no attention to either the doctor or Esther. She gave a slight nod when the former advised her to remain in bed for a day or so, that was all. Her manner suggested the complete exhaustion which frequently follows violent hysteria, but Esther thought the exhaustion was only physical. It seemed to her that Lady Clifford's brain was active, that she was thinking deeply.

As soon as she was free Esther put on her hat and coat and joined Roger, who was waiting for her in the car outside. Once alone with him she somewhat reluctantly let him draw out of her exactly what had occurred that morning.

"I can't in the least understand what it was she was so furious about," she ended.

After a short silence Roger said: "There's no reason why I shouldn't tell you, I feel as if I'd known you quite long enough, somehow. . . . You see, my father recently decided to appoint me trustee of all his property. It happens to give me a good deal of power over the part that Therese will inherit when he dies, or rather no so much power in actual fact as knowledge. She won't be able to do anything without consulting me. She knows it to be a pure formality. I should never interfere with her, but—when she was told about her, she was frightfully upset. That's all."

"But you wouldn't try to—?" "To advise her or restrain her? Lord, no! The position's as detestable to me as to her. I don't want to be compelled to know what she does with her money when she gets it—and I hope it's a long time off—I'm not a bit interested. However, I'm going to have another go at the old man when he's in a more reasonable frame of mind. He's as stubborn as a donkey now, one can't do anything with him."

She nodded understandingly. Then with a rueful laugh she said: "I'm afraid your stepmother is going to hate me most awfully from now on. Isn't it unfortunate? Still, I couldn't stand by and allow her to go for the poor old man like that. Why, she was like a tigress!"

"Never mind. It looks now as if she's made up her mind to be kind for a bit, so you won't have to see her."

She looked at him curiously. "What do you mean, madly up her mind?"

"Well, isn't that what a hysterical woman usually does when she wants to get sympathy and put other people in the wrong? It's an old trick. What do you think?"

"I don't know," she answered slowly. "Anyhow, the doctor is taking it seriously. He's given her an injection of anti-typhoid for typhoid."

"And why not? He must earn his money. Besides, it won't do her any harm."

"She really does look ill," she said. "And so would you, if you'd been in a couple of rages as she has in 12 hours' time," he retorted quickly, then, as though he had committed himself, changed the current of thought suddenly. "What a conscientious child you are, Esther," he said, smiling at her. "You won't let me abuse anyone, will you? I say, will you let me call you by your first name? It seems regarding her with a closer attention than any driver should give to his companion. The result was a violent seizure to the far side of the road, barely missing a lamp post."

"Good God, what's the fool about?" Esther screamed, starting to her feet. They had only just avoided cutting short the life of an ill-starred pedestrian who was in the act of crossing to a small cafe. Roger was proceeding on his way when Esther clutched his arm. "He's a friend of mine!"

She laughed as, completely astonished, Roger obeyed her command and brought the car to a halt.

TRIPLER ELEPHANT GAME

$1,500.00 First Prize

$1,000.00 Second Prize

$500.00 Third Prize } A Grand Total of 30 Cash Awards

THE PROBLEM

The sums total of the figures on each of the three elephants pictured herewith are to be given as a solution. You can find the sum total of each elephant by adding up the figures of each. The figures 1, 2, and 3 in the circles in the upper left hand corners of the elephants are simply to identify them. These figures have nothing to do with the elephants' weights.

In submitting your solution you must identify the three elephants by their numbers, that is, the figure "9" is the highest figure shown. There are no "23's," "55's" or "97's," or like groups. If you find a "2" and a "3" are written so closely together that it looks like "23," it means that "2" and "3" are to be added—just as you would if they were an inch apart.

There are no figures in the picture except in the bodies of the elephants. The tops of the "6's" are distinctly curved, and the bottom of the "9's" are straight or nearly so. There is no trick or illusion in the charts.

GENERAL RULES OF THE CONTEST

1. This contest is open only to residents of Georgia and adjoining states. Both old and new subscribers may enter. No employee or member of an employee's family of The Atlanta Constitution will be allowed to participate in the contest, nor any of the prize winners that have won prizes in excess of $100.00 in any of the elephant contests heretofore conducted by The Atlanta Constitution.

2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they may desire, provided a payment of one of the amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one prize. Once registered a solution cannot be changed. NO SOLUTION UNACCOMPANIED BY A SUBSCRIPTION PAYMENT WILL BE REGISTERED.

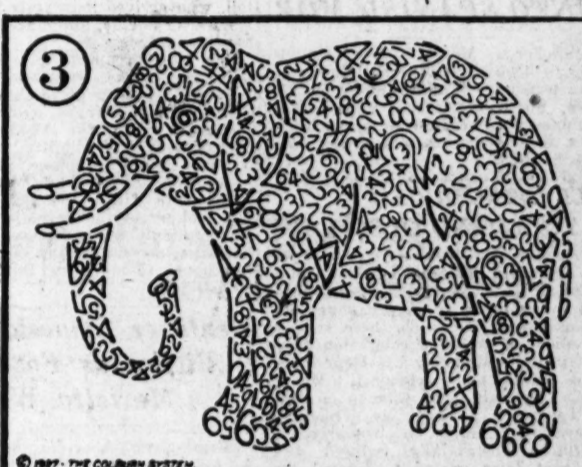

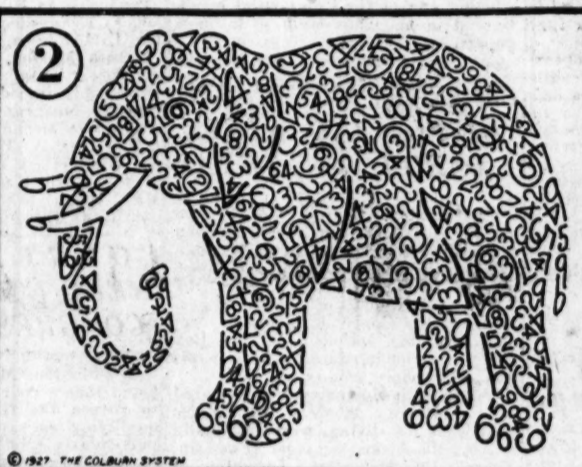

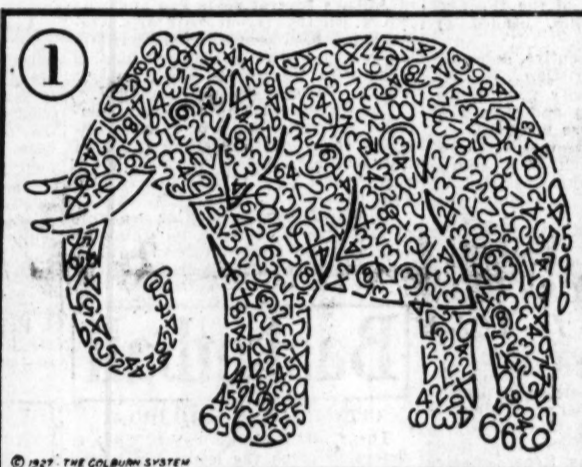

3. The Atlanta Constitution offers these prizes for individual effort. While it is proper for members of one household or several friends to work together, it is not permissible for more than one of those working in unison to send a solution of the puzzle. When, in the judgment of the contest manager or The Atlanta Constitution, more than one member of the same family or more than one of any number of persons he believes have worked together, send in a solution of the puzzle, the right is reserved to return the amount of money paid for subscription and return the solution if it is believed has been submitted contrary to the rules.

4. The Atlanta Constitution reserves the right at any time to reject any solution which it believes has not been submitted under the proper conditions. In other words, any group of persons working together and submitting more than one solution, all submitted by the group will be barred. The Atlanta Constitution also reserves the right to finally decide any other questions or points which may arise in this contest, and participants by sending in their answers agree to accept the decisions of the contest manager of The Atlanta Constitution as conclusive and final.

5. In case of ties, as many prizes will be reserved as there are people tied before any prizes are awarded for a less correct solution; that is, if two or more people should tie in the best solution, the first two or more prizes will be reserved for them, and they will be awarded in order of the standing of their solutions of the second puzzle. That is, the best solution will be awarded the first prize, the next best second, and the third best third prize, etc.

6. All solutions with remittances must be delivered to the office of The Atlanta Constitution by 6:00 p. m., Thursday, March 29, 1928, or mailed at any post office in Georgia or adjoining states, bearing postmark of no later date than March 29.

7. The subscription rate of the daily and Sunday Constitution is $5.00 for six months, $9.50 for twelve months. All subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance. Nothing less than six months' subscription will be accepted, and not more than twelve months' subscription is required. A subscription can be sent to one person and the solution credited to another, but the complete address of both must be given in each instance. This contest begins Thursday, February 9, and ends Thursday, March 29, 1928.

Otherwise, the paper will be sent by mail.

How to Win $1,500.00

To enter this contest it is necessary to send but one paid-in-advance subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution for six months with $5.00, but you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. For instance, with a $5.00 remittance and six months' subscription, should you win first prize the amount paid would be $500.00, but if the winner of first prize has qualified with a remittance of $9.50 for twelve months' subscription, the prize will be $1,500.00 instead of $500.00.

$500.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution with $5.00 remittance is sent, new or renewal, $250.00 for second prize, $125.00 for third prize, etc.

$1,500.00 instead of $500.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one yearly subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution is sent with $9.50, either new or renewal; second prize, $1,000.00; third prize, $500.00, etc. See last column in prize list. All subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.

DECIDING TIES—IF ANY

72	25	39	92	64	58	29	72	85	28
36	72	94	28	60	38	72	58	95	25

In case of ties, a second puzzle, like the accompanying chart, except larger, will be presented for those tied to solve. The problem will consist of drawing a continuous chain across the chart encircling the figures in the circles. If necessary to eliminate further ties, the puzzle, with combinations changed, will be presented for as many as five more times, after which, should any ties exist, each tying contestant will receive the full amount of any prizes tied for.

In case there are no ties on counting elephants no other puzzle, of course, will be presented.

Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance

issued to annual subscribers and immediate members of a subscriber's family of ages from 15 to 70 at $1.25 per policy each per year. This fee is in addition to the subscription price. Applicants should give name in full, state age and occupation, and when a beneficiary is given be sure to state full Christian name and relationship to the insured.

Here Is The Great Prize List

Note: The value of the prize depends on how much you pay on your subscription with your solution in the triplet elephant game. The amount paid will be applied to the daily and Sunday Constitution; Daily only or tri-weekly subscriptions not accepted in this contest, and no solution will be registered unless accompanied by at least $5.00 for six months' subscription. The least amount is $5.00 for six months' subscription, or the largest amount required is $9.50 for twelve months' subscription.

Both the solution and subscription must be sent in at the same time in same envelope.

	Prize if 6 mos. sub. new or renewal with $5.00 is sent.	Prize if 12 mos. sub. new or renewal with $9.50 is sent.
First Prize .....	$500.00	$1,500.00
Second Prize .....	250.00	1,000.00
Third Prize .....	125.00	500.00
Fourth Prize .....	75.00	250.00
Fifth Prize .....	40.00	100.00
Sixth Prize .....	20.00	50.00
Seventh to Thirtieth Prizes .....	5.00	25.00
Total .....	$1,130.00	$4,000.00

Important Facts To Remember

While the amount you pay with a solution of the puzzle does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners submit in subscription money. This is explained in the awards list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution. The time a solution is received has no bearing upon its winning an award. Accuracy is what counts. Not more than one award will be awarded to any one person.

FANTASIES—“Five Acts.”

ERLANGER.
But three days remain of the engagement of “Abie's Irish Rose” at the Erlanger theater, where this remarkable comedy has again attained its widespread popularity by delighting capacity audiences during the current week. It is not to be wondered at that “Abie” holds the world's record of nearly six years' continuous presentation in New York. Tickets for all remaining performances may be had at the Erlanger box office and at Phillips & Crew Piano Company.

Keith's Georgia.
There seems to be no dissenting voice regarding the program at Keith's Georgia this week—it is uniformly good and the crowds attend like every number of the stage production as well as the screen attraction. “The Love Mart,” in which Billie Dove and Gilbert Roland have the leading parts, Billie Dove portrays a society belle of New Orleans in a period more than a hundred years ago.

Capitol.
It is rare indeed when a dance team of the sensational merit of Gauduchi and Phelps, headliners this week at the Capitol theater, comes to a local stage and Capitol audiences this week are being given the full benefit of the beautiful act. Miss Phelps is one of the most beautiful, as well as one of the most talented, dancers ever seen here. They are featured with La Chapina Morilla band. Other big acts on the bill are Tameo Kijima, the marvelous mental worker; Pearson and Anderson; the Wilkerson sisters, Boyd and Wallin. On the screen this week is “13 Washington Square,” featuring Alice Joyce and Jean Hersholt.

Loew's Grand.
Fun and beauty are two predominant notes on the vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand theater this week, where George Lewis and Rex Van, “Two Black Jacks,” are the headliners with “Rainbow Revels,” a big dancing act sharing first honors. The Loew feature picture is the beautiful creation of

Strand and Poole Join Crackers; Carlyle Signs Contract

Rogers Is Out Of Hospital; Men Look Fine

Colonel Spiller All Smiles as Boys Pour in for Spring Practice.

BY BEN COTHRAN.
Mild, spring-like weather and reinforcements greeted Atlanta's Crackers Wednesday as the diamond crew pranced through its third day of spring training.

The day was so warm that most of the boys discarded their new, bright red jackets. Here and there a player was on the mound, lazily working the ball across the plate and every once in a while turning loose a fast one.

New Arrivals.
One of the groups playing the old game of pepper consisted largely of the day's new arrivals, who were Paul Strand, last year with Portland, Oregon; Jim Poole, formerly property of the Philadelphia Athletics; Mickey Werre, right-handed pitcher with Reading, Pa.; last year; Walter Gilbert, with the Crackers last year. With them was Red Smith, Cracker third sacker of two seasons ago. Red has now risen to the exalted position of manager and will boss the Springfield, Ill., club in the Three-Boy league this year. Red leaves Atlanta, where he spent the winter, on March 22 and, "you know, when you're getting kinds old, you've got to work into this thing gradually. That's what I'm doing out here."

Red and Paul Strand, during their short pepper session, were conversing at the rate of 60 per minute and having a great time of it. They must have discussed every man that ever wore a baseball uniform and replayed every game.

Colonel Bell J. Spiller was wearing an expansive grin during the workout. It was spring-like, he had a large crowd working out—practically everyone has reported. Johnny Brock will be in Saturday; Sherry Smith today, probably; Art Olson is on his way; Tom Rogers is out of the hospital and will be on the field shortly; Red Bates is training with Birmingham for two or three weeks, to be as close to this filling station as possible. So Mr. Spiller was feeling rather pleased. The men on the field were dashing through their workout with spirit and pep. And they looked good.

Carlyle Signs.
Then, Mr. Spiller is of the opinion that he has "found" a ball player. The player in question is Eldon Carlyle, young outfielder of Natchez, Ga., who batted in Monday and attached himself to the club. Bert Niehoff liked his looks and Wednesday the youngster signed a contract. The colonel is preparing to farm him out later. He is a brother of Roy and Cleo.

Walter Gilbert, who reported Wednesday morning with an unsigned contract, dispelled all holdout rumors which have been in circulation of late, by taking little or no time to sign his contract and get out on the field. Walt took his run around the park like Whiskey winning last year's derby and seems to be in good shape. During batting practice, he stepped into several fast ones and went steaming around the bases. Gilbert has told Mr. Spiller that he isn't going to be with Atlanta next year, that he's going up to the big time. That tickled the colonel, who takes that kind of playing to win ball games.

A long batting practice towards the close of the day's activities was indicative of several things.
First, it would appear that Paul Strand is going to be responsible for more than several Crackers runs this season. Strand is a huge fellow, big shoulders and thick arms. And when he swings at a ball he puts 300 pounds behind it. Wednesday, several of the fivebuses in the outfield were wishing they had motorcycles when chasing Strand's wallop.

Boys Look Good.
Jim Poole and Gilbert also looked good while at the plate. Tom Angley took several healthy cuts.

Colonel Spiller Wednesday instructed Skipper Niehoff to cull the young amateurs and semi-pros working out with the team and cut off some of them. Pruning among the regulars will not take place for some two weeks or so.

Most of the players are now in At-

The SPORTLIGHT

THE GAME GUY.

Bill could take it, all there was, With a hydrant for a chin; You could nail him with a bat, But he still came on to win.

You could nick him with a brick, But he still came pounding through, As he soaked up lefts and rights Just as buds soak up the dew.

"There's a game guy," each one said, All the Jerry Dicks and Molls; Now he's walking on his heels As he cuts out paper dolls.

Yes, he has a bale of swag, And as seasons come and go, Think of all the paper dolls He can buy with all his dough.

Not So Much Menacing.

Senior Paulino Uzcudun helped to prove effectively that the Harry Willis menace was a little gnat and the same senior hasn't helped the menacing in George Godfrey's career.

A menace is supposed to be aggressive, on occasions, and Godfrey rarely wants to be bothered with aggressiveness. Although his displacement is around 240, his main idea is to stand at ease and let the other party walk in and keep the show going.

At least that is about the only type of fighting I have ever seen Godfrey offer in four or five affairs.

He might be harder to beat than any heavyweight around, but he is only interesting to watch when his opponent forces the action.

Something to look at would be a meeting between Dempsey and Uzcudun. In this case you would have two offensives detonating on impact in mid-ring.

"This Coordination."
"Just what is this coordination you fellows write about every now and then?" asks L. F. D.

It is largely a matter of team play among mind, nerves and muscle. It means smooth working action, which in turn may be based largely on instinctive action. If a boxer sees an opening and hits for the spot on the instant his coordination is well adjusted. If he sees an opening and hits a half second too late, the coordination is not so good.

"There are days," remarked a champion golfer recently, "when my head, arms and body seem to be three distinct sections. On these days scoring is pretty sour. There are other days when head, arms and body seem to be one piece of machinery, and then the scoring takes care of itself."

Waner, Hornsby or Heilmann, through their eyesight spot a fast curve coming over. The eyes flash the message to the brain and the brain sends it along through the nerves to the muscles. It all happens in less than a second, but 35 times out of 100 they hit safely because the machinery is clicking in team play.

A keen brain may have no faculty of working with the muscular system. This often happens. The best part of coordination must be, in instinctive action, where thought is a minor element.

A Matter of Time.
It would be interesting to know how much money a Jeffries or a Fitzsimmons could pick up today with the slight change that has taken place in the financial situation.

It would also be interesting to know how Uzcudun, the Basque, would make out if he had his chance at an old-fashioned finished fight, or one lasting 45 rounds.

No one has bothered him yet in 10 or 15 rounds, for like Bat Nelson, he needs that much exercise to warm up. There isn't anything fancy about him, but after passing the twentieth or twenty-fifth round, he might become an unpleasant personality at close quarters. One can slug a rock quarry or pound an iron post for only so long without becoming fed up, if not downright discouraged.

Today's Golf Menu.

How many golfers, on the back swing, take their hands in close enough to the legs or body? Not more than 10 per cent. It is difficult if one is attempting a slice or a cut. But for all ordinary shots there is much to be gained by bringing the hands closer in. In the first place, this helps to prevent taking the club away outside the line of flight. In the second place, it helps to force a better body turn, or pivot. In the third place, it adds to compactness, which is a feature of good iron play. Taking the hands back well away from the body may lead to the number of combinations. The other number, the better, proposition to work on.

A CRACKER A DAY TO-DAY

BERT NIEHOFF, MANAGER.

BY BEN COTHRAN.

Bert Niehoff climbed up the steps from the clubhouse at Spiller field last Monday morning, cast his eye over the layout and remarked, "Well, here I go starting a season for the twenty-first time. I ought to get used to it after a while."

Thus has Bert spent 21 of his 43 years on this earth—connected with baseball. His baseball life has been full and successful. For a span of years he was in the major leagues. For the seven years he has been a player-manager.

Bert was born in Louisville, Colorado, some 43 years ago. He doesn't remember when he first began playing baseball, but he began his professional career back in 1907. And that, Cedric, was quite some few years ago.

The National league, judging from Bert's record, was his favorite of the two major baseball organizations. He started out with the New York Giants, went from there to the Boston Braves, then to St. Louis—he was with the Cardinals and a team-mate of Rogers Hornsby—and then to the Philadelphia Phillies and to Cincinnati. He went back to the Giants, and there came the break that sent Bert to Atlanta.

James Albert Niehoff, 43, is a man of the majors. There was a collision one day—Bert came out with a broken leg. It mended, but wasn't straight and causes a slight limp in his walk.

Niehoff broke into the Southern league with Mobile, and while playing there his usual position of second base and managing the team, won a pennant in 1922. For the Mobile fans, it seemed he had done enough. But not the skipper. He took his team into the Dixie Series and trimmed the Port Worth team of the Texas league for the title of Dixie.

Bert came to Atlanta as manager in the season of 1924 and has been here since then. In 1925 he won a pennant. Niehoff is a capable manager and when he has the material he turns out a winning team. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 185 pounds, and everybody likes "the skipper."

Jackets Hold 2nd Skirmish; Back Is Hurt

Boys Look Good in Second Scrimmage of Spring Season.

BY ROGER PAGE.
The Golden Tech football squad, last season's southern champions, was sent through the second scrimmage of the spring training on Grant field Wednesday afternoon as Coaches Alexander, Fincher and Miller looked on.

In this second encounter Bob Strickland, one of the best rated backs in the freshman ranks of last year, broke a blood vessel in his right ankle, as he carried the ball in the last play of the day. This injury caused a good deal of suffering at first, but after being carried from the field it is not expected that this will be serious.

First Injury.
This was the first and only injury the Golden Tech squad suffered in the spring work, with the exception of a few small cuts and bruises.

Bob Randolph again demonstrated his football ability in the scrimmage. Randolph has not lost any of the speed he possessed in the games of last fall. Neither has his broken field running changed. Bob perhaps is one of the fastest backs in the south to get started during a play. Just as soon as the ball was snapped from the steady hands of Captain Peter Drennon, Randolph was going at full speed. He averaged about 10 yards at a time through the line.

Another back who is being watched closely on the field is Coach Bill Fincher sent in the fray. These two men are hard workers and know football. Cedar Rusk also got in some good work at center.

Forward Passes.
Many times during the scrimmage forward passes were heaved in the air. On several occasions "Foot" Watkins, newly made flanker from the tackle position, had chances to grab the ball for big gains, but he failed to hold on to it. Watkins has a lot yet to learn about new plays, but he is catching passes, but in line play.

Stumpy Thomason was not out in uniform Wednesday afternoon. He was watched, however, from the sidelines, taking in everything. Stumpy has had a sprained back since the fall games and has seen very little active work since. While he is not in uniform Monday, as his back has been steadily improving.

At least three more weeks remain before the Golden Tech team will put away the uniforms for the season. Coach Alexander expects to get in several more scrimmages before the spring work ends.

Attaway Goes Through Thought Stiff Workout Here

Gainesville Boy Hard at Work for Battle With Greek Friday.

Stiles Attaway, who is nearing the end of a training campaign calculated to get him right on edge for his fight Friday night at the Ringside arena with Pete Stamaty, the Greek fighter from New Orleans, had a rousing session yesterday afternoon. Among others, the Georgia boy sparred with "Pug" Avera, the fast stepping heavyweight from Fort McPherson.

The practice skirmish with the soldier fighter helped Stiles considerably, as he was able to turn loose all of his punching power, thereby stretching the muscles with which he has wallowed his way to so many victories.

Hard Work.
In addition to his gym work, Attaway has been getting in plenty of work out of doors, digging ditches, chopping wood, climbing trees, road work, etc. According to Manager Eddie Hanlon, he is in the best condition that he has yet attained for a fight and should be able to put forth his best efforts in the tussle with the Greek scrapper here Friday night.

Jake Abel, one of Atlanta's leading fight authorities, who has seen Stamaty in action, says that he is a pretty good fighter and equally as skilled as Attaway. That means that the fans are almost certain of seeing an evenly matched battle.

In one of the two six-rounders on the card the fans will see Joe Knight in action against Jim Fancell, while in the other one it will be Marvin Pruitt and Joe Haywood.

While he is trying to keep it secret it is a known fact that Manager Hanlon is worried about the outcome of the fight with the Greek pugilist and that is one reason why he has gone to particular pains to get Stiles in excellent condition. This is the first fight encounter Attaway has had since he suffered an eye injury in a scrap at Macon. However, that injury is completely healed now and Stiles, according to his own story is "rearin' to go."

From this distance the fight card at the Ringside arena Friday night has all of the earmarks of being the best all-around program that the arena officials have offered the fans since they successfully undertook to revive Atlanta's interest in prize fights.

per cent, with loans available below that figure in the outside market. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Some of today's selling was inspired by the belief that the market's technical position had been weakened by the recent spirited advance in many issues and by fears of another large increase in brokers' loans this week.

down from a high of 142 5/8 to 140 1/8, closing at 140 5/8, off 15-8 net. Colorado Fuel dropped 3 points, United States Cast Iron Pipe 2 and Bethlehem and Gulf States 1 3/4 each. International Harvester broke more than 6 points on the traditional "selling on the good news" following publication of the 1927 earnings report. Selling pressure also was effective against Collins & Aikman, Coty, Dupont, Electric Boat, Lorillard Tobacco, Universal Leaf Tobacco, White Sewing Machine.

Several of the public utilities attained new peak prices for the year, including Commonwealth Power, American and Foreign Power, Electric Power and Light and American Power and Light, but all of the gains were not maintained. Greene Cananea Copper soared 9 points to 133 1-2, broke into 125 and rallied to 129 1-4.

Rails failed to make much response to the Rock Island dividend, which appeared to be offset by another drop in weekly freight car loadings. Most of the declines were held to fractions, although New York Central, Chicago and Northwestern and Western Maryland common dropped a point or two.

Foreign exchange trading was quiet with no important changes in rates. Sterling cables ruled slightly lower round $4.87 13-16.

The break of 21-2 cents a pound in rubber, followed by a partial recovery and the rally of 11-4 to 21-2 cents a bushel in wheat prices divided speculative interest in the commodity markets. Cotton and coffee prices reacted moderately and an easier undertone was apparent in the sugar market.

Cotton bids in New York yesterday were quiet in the gray goods division, but prints remained in steady demand.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

New York, March 7.—The cotton market opened this morning six to ten points higher on a steady market in Liverpool with less offering. Prospects of rain in Texas where wanted had a tendency to keep prices from responding to the early favorable cables. There was buying by the commission houses and local operators while the south and west had no news to be held. The market was not a broad affair and there was more or less quiet throughout the session.

The weekly weather report stated that farm work in the south was abreast of the season and much ground prepared especially in the western states. The outlook for a favorable impression on sentiment and offerings increased slightly with the result that prices eased off to about yesterday's quotations on the new crop months.

There is a general feeling that further developments and seem to be unwilling to take on very heavy fresh commitments in either way. The figures of the Master Spinners' federation and the consumption figures by the bureau are to be issued shortly and are expected to be interesting.

Garside gives the invisible and visible supply in this country at the beginning of season at 4,348,000 bales. The crop was 12,789,000, making a total supply of 17,137,000. Minnabasca has 9,435,000 bales. This leaves a total of 7,642,000 bales to be distributed by way of consumption, exports and carryover during the next five months. The average takings for the past four years has been 3,519,000 bales from March to the end of the season. Should they run at this rate, there would be left in the visible and invisible supply at the end of the season 4,123,000 bales, or approximately 225,000 bales less than last year. We continue to advise purchases on declines. May Liverpool due 9.84.

New York, March 7.—The market continues in a rut and pays little attention to the better cables from Europe. At no time today was there any trading in volume. A little uptown selling was reported, influenced by the rise in the stock market and favorable weekly report, but business was not active enough to attach much importance to the small fluctuations.

Liverpool futures are due tomorrow March, 9.98; May, 9.84.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

Cotton again ruled extremely dull with the limited trading largely local and without significance. The trade has continued to absorb the moderate offerings on a scale-down. Weekly weather report indicated that new crop preparations were progressing normally. Wheat and dull market is proverbially a sagging market, there is little pressure at the moment and the resting trade demand appears sufficient to prevent any material setback unless some fresh bearish factor is injected into the situation. The consensus of opinion favors taking advantage of moderate recessions to acquire contracts.

FENNER & BEANE.

New Orleans, March 7.—Cotton moved but little either way today but was were a little firmer. The first of Good cables

The weekly review reports good progress in preparation except in the southwest and says planting of cotton in the lower Rio

Grand value is about half thirteen. Spot demand continues of fair proportions with holder firm while dry goods reports indicate only moderate activity in the distributing end of the business.

Most of the trade continues to look on pending developments that will stimulate interest on one side of the market as the other. Market is likely to be a small trading affair until something new develops with possibility of a tendency to ang.
